HUN MUST FULFILL TREATY TERMS

Allies Have No Intention of Modifying Demands, Announced Today

BRITISH, REPORTED, FAVOR MODERATION

French Vote of Confidence Supports Firm Policy Toward Germany

PARIS, Feb. 7.—The Allies do not have any intention, for the moment, of modifying Article 228 of the peace treaty, it was announced today, following the meeting of the council of ambassadors.

The Allied governments, according to the announcement, regard it as imperative that Germany recognize her obligation to carry out all the terms of the treaty.

BY HENRY WOOD

(United Press Staff Correspondent) PARIS, Feb. 7.—British legal authorities appearing before the meeting of the council of ambassadors last night, urged modification in the severity of the Allied demands for German war guilt, it was understood today.

Lord Birkenhead, the British lord chancellor, and Sir Ernest Pollock, solicitor general, were sent from London to present the British view, which, it was understood, was a virtual reversal of the previous attitude of the London government.

The French press today was "greatly astounded by the change in British attitude."

The Paris morning press today generally believed the government of Premier Millerand had been strengthened greatly by the vote of confidence in the chamber of deputies last yesterday. The vote—500 to 70—followed Millerand's declaration that France will insist Germany carry out in full the terms of the Versailles treaty.

The confidence vote also was interpreted by the newspapers as vindication of the premier's Russian policy.

France's policy will be to abolish secret diplomacy and to aid the Russian people, but not the soviet government, Millerand said.

The press unanimously supported Millerand's firm policy toward Germany.

3 ARRESTED, CHARGED WITH GIRL'S MURDER

MODESTO, Cal., Feb. 7.—Romeo J. Paslaque, Dr. J. J. Knowlton and P. O. and Frances McKenna, were arrested last night on warrants charging murder in connection with the death of Mayme Helm in the Waterford Hotel, Waterford, January 11.

Paslaque, who is a prominent clothing merchant of Modesto and Dr. Knowlton were released on $5,000 bail immediately after their arrest, but the McKennas are still in jail and the prosecution states that all efforts to secure bail for the couple will be resisted.

The murder complaints were sworn to by Sheriff R. L. Dallas, and the issuance of the warrants followed telephone instructions from District Attorney Brown, who is in San Francisco.

No date for a hearing has yet been set by Justice of the Peace Rice.

Y. M. C. A. DRIVE FOR FUNDS UNSUCCESSFUL

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 7.—Criticism of the association's war record, an avalanche of other drives and general lack of appreciation for what the organization stands for were among the reasons assigned by leaders last night for the subscription of less than one-fifth of the quota in the ten-day Y. M. C. A. campaign to raise $750,000 in Los Angeles and vicinity.

With a total of only $127,921, more than $50,000 of which was subscribed by directors of the association, the drive closed last night with a dinner given by the campaign executive committee to the workers, captains and division leaders in the Central Y. M. C. A. building 715 South Hope street. The number of subscribers was 1518.

A collection of jades and porcelains was described by art critics as "the most wonderful in America."

Among the paintings are Rembrandt's "Portrait of Artist's Father," valued at $100,000, and Joshua Reynolds' "Lady Sara Bunbury," declared worth $65,000.

The value of the entire estate was placed at $2,800,000.

PROBE KILLING OF MILLIONAIRE RIGGS

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 7.—The coroner's office today is investigating the mystery surrounding the death of Leon C. Riggs, 62, millionaire owner of Riggs' Restaurant, 43 West 33rd street, New York.

Late Thursday night Riggs is said to have accompanied a guest from his home to a street car. After the guest had boarded the car Riggs started across the tracks and was run down by a car going in the opposite direction. A passing autoist took Riggs to a hospital, where physicians pronounced him dead upon arrival.

So far the police have not learned the identity of any witnesses, the guest, nor the man who took Riggs to the hospital.

VALLEJO MYSTIFIED BY MYSTERY KILLING

VALLEJO, Cal., Feb. 7.—Although Dr. Knowlton returned a verdict that City Treasurer Noah Hathaway's death was accidental, Vallejo today was teeming with gossip over new facts brought to light in connection with the mysterious shooting of the official.

Hathaway, it developed, had been reprimanded by town trustees for the office hours he kept as city treasurer.

Rumors that he had had trouble with his young brother, Gerard, were denied by friends.

Another feature that caused much discussion was the fact that the revolver Hathaway had was of the hammerless type, to discharge which requires pulling of the trigger and additional pressure on the safety lever.

JUDGE GOODSSELL TO STUMP FOR JOHNSON

SAN BERNARDINO, Feb. 7.—Judge Rex B. Goodsell will in all probability stump an eastern state for Hiram Johnson for president.

That he had been asked by the Johnson-for-President Club to make the trip in the interest of the California senator, became known yesterday.

Judge Goodsell said last night that he could make no definite statement—that he had accepted the invitation, but that details had not been worked out.

WILSON STILL OPPOSED TO ANY CHANGE IN TREATY

Executive Maintains Stand Against Reservations, Hitchcock Informed

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—Democratic senators met today at the call of Senator Hitchcock to discuss their program in the treaty discussion which is to begin Monday in the senate.

There was little likelihood that any program would be agreed on which would prove acceptable to the whole Democratic minority. The chief result of the meeting is likely to be that Senator Hitchcock will get a clear idea how the various senators stand, for his guidance.

He will go into the Senate Monday with a following divided at least as much as Senator Lodge's. Lodge is assured of the support of 25 or 30 Republicans, Hitchcock may have a much smaller percentage of support, though he is counting on 43 of the 47 Democrats.

Hitchcock was prepared to tell Democrats today that President Wilson's position is unchanged. He has had no direct communication with the president, Hitchcock said, but has been made acquainted with the fact that Wilson stands today just as he stood when he wrote the letter to the Jackson day dinner, that is, against any change in the meaning of the treaty through reservations.

Senator Borah continued today his quibbling of presidential candidates and possibilities by writing to Governor Cox of Ohio. Borah asked Cox to say whether he favors giving the British empire six votes to one for the United States in the League assembly and how he stands with reference to a national referendum on the league covenant.

MRS. WILSON IS FOUND NOT GUILTY

MARYSVILLE, Cal., Feb. 7.—The jury in the murder trial of Mrs. Gertrude Wilson found her not guilty today. The verdict was returned after the jury had been out only five minutes. It was returned on the first ballot. Mrs. Wilson had been accused of murdering Charles Brown, a wealthy sheep man.

W. P. Rich, assistant prosecutor, in his speech as part of the state's argument, characterized testimony introduced by the defense as "the bunk" and defense witnesses as "suckers, oddities and deliberate falsifiers." Rich ridiculed the testimony of Wesley Potts. "Didn't he remind you of a boy at school who was afraid of forgetting his piece?" shouted Rich.

TRY TO SAVE BABY WITH CRUSHED SKULL

OAKLAND, Cal., Feb. 7.—A doctor and a nurse devoted themselves today to the life of a baby girl to brighten the existence of Richard Mansfield, a ship worker.

They were obeying the dying request of Mrs. Mansfield.

With a fast electric train rushing upon her as she stood helpless in its track with her foot clamped within a switch, Mrs. Mansfield tossed her 100 persons, who were arrested in connection with alleged games of chance. In raids conducted by Captain Wilcox and Ben Cohn of the district attorney's office, co-operating with Marshals Street and Patton, 150 were arrested. Of that number 100 pleaded guilty to many varieties of gambling, from dice to cards, and were fined from $5.00 to $180 each.

According to the officers, the raids were necessary because citizens and visitors were liable at any time to stumble into a crowd in some nook, watching anxiously for the roll of the dice, or in some room where aces were high.

GAMBLING EPIDEMIC ABOUT SAN FERNANDO

SAN FERNANDO, Feb. 7.—What officers declare to have been an epidemic of gambling at San Fernando is on the wane, following the apprehensions before Justice Swinger of 100 persons, who were arrested in connection with alleged games of chance.

70 Rescued From Liner In Thrilling Manner

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—Seventy men and women, after facing death and suffering from cold and insufficient food on the stranded steamer Princess Anne, arrived at the Battery this afternoon on the police tug Patrol. They were taken from the Old Dominion liner by launches and transferred to the police tug in one of the most spectacular and hazardous rescues ever undertaken by the coast guard and harbor police. The Princess Anne went ashore on a reef at Rockaway Beach at 3 o'clock yesterday morning. Attempts to reach her were frustrated until this afternoon by 40 foot waves. About 20 of the crew remained on the vessel and will endeavor later to refloat her.

The boiler room was flooded soon after the steamer struck, putting out of commission the light, heating, and water plants. The passengers and crew gathered in the upper cabins to escape from the waves. There they subsisted on canned salmon, sardines, oysters and hardtack. The water supply was so low that it was rationed. They maintained a semblance of warmth by bundling themselves in all blankets and spare clothing they could find.

FRANKLIN K. LANE TO QUIT AS SECRETARY OF INTERIOR MAR. 1

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—Secretary of the Interior Franklin K. Lane has forwarded his resignation to President Wilson and it has been accepted effective March 1, it was announced at Lane's office today.

Lane visited the White House early today and it is understood he carried his resignation with him at that time.

Lane announced several weeks ago he intended to quit the cabinet but was holding up his formal resignation because he did not wish further to burden President Wilson during his illness.

At the White House it has been said several times that the president already has in mind the man he will choose to succeed Lane.

200 MEXICAN REBELS ARE KILLED IN FIGHTING

Diaz Forces Vanquished, Generals Killed or Captured, Claimed

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 7.—Government forces under General Guadalupe Sanchez have defeated revolutionists of the Felix Diaz faction in two battles at Nautla and Jicaltepec, the government claimed today.

Two hundred rebels were killed, the government statement said, including Generals Ponciano Vasquez, Vicente Lopez, Celso Cipeda and Constantino Galan and Higinio Aguilar.

General Guadalupe Delalave, one of the most important Diaz leaders, was wounded and taken prisoner. He formerly was a general in the federal army and once was governor of the state of Jalisco. Delalave, the statement said, was taken to Vera Cruz for summary court martial.

He probably will be executed, it was believed, in view of the recent government policy toward the rebel chiefs.

The government's losses in the battles were few, it was claimed. President Carranza, it was announced, has promoted all the federal officers in the engagements.

The Diaz band, according to the government's statement, had kidnapped six wealthy Spaniards and the fighting resulted when federal troops went in pursuit. The Spaniards were rescued.

Seventeen governors held a conference here yesterday on the political situation but made no announcement.

Villistas Operate In Richest District

EL PASO, Tex., Feb. 7.—Villistas forces occupied the towns of Gomez Palacio and Lerdo in Durango state last Wednesday, and after looting stores and the homes of prominent persons, went to the San Fernando plantation of the Tlahualilo Cotton company and seized Manager Joseph E. Askew, American citizen, holding him for $20,000 ransom, according to reports reaching here today. The rebels released all prisoners in the jails at Gomez Palacio and Lerdo, stated the reports. These towns are connected with Torreon by interurban electric railways.

This account and the Washington reports of Askew's capture are the first indications that Villistas are operating in Mexico's richest cotton district, close to Torreon.

LEGION NULLIFIES HONOR TO DEMPSEY

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Feb. 7.—Jack Dempsey's honorary membership in Gordon Barber post, American Legion, was nullified today. Post officials stated the action was taken because such a membership is unconstitutional. The post adopted a resolution praising Dempsey and his war record.

PRICES HIGHER ON N. Y. STOCKS TODAY

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—Prices were for the most part higher at the stock market opening here today. United States Steel was up 1/4 at 100 1/4; Studebaker opened at 95, up 1 1/2; Reading at 71 1/2, up 1 1/2; Republic at 108, up 1/2; Crucible at 209, off 2 1/2; International Paper 76 1/2, up 1; U. S. Rubber 105 1/2, up 1/2; Baldwin 111 1/4, up 1/2; Southern Pacific 95 1/2, up 1/4; Bethlehem B 90 1/2, off 1/2; Union Pacific 117 1/2, up 1/4; U. S. Stores 75 1/2, up 1/4; Sinclair at 37, up 1/2; General Motors 270, up 2 1/2; Mexican Petroleum 173 1/2, up 1/4.

This week's heavy liquidation of stocks has greatly relieved the money situation. In some quarters it was estimated stock exchange borrowing has recently been reduced by $100,000,000, but considerable uncertainty still exists over the immediate outlook and this was reflected in the first half hour of today's trading. Steel common reacted from 100 1/4 to 99 1/2, the third straight day this stock has broken below par. General Motors dropped from 270 to 263 1/2; Mexican Petroleum from 179 to 177 and Studebaker from 95 to 93. The market closed higher.

O'Connor's speech introducing Lane won him the title the "boy orator of the Mission." He was regarded as one of the keenest criminal lawyers of California. He was known as having tried many cases gratis and many poor people found him ready to help them in this way.

RESIST TO LAST MAN TEUTONS AGREED

Hindenburg and Ludendorff Say No One Shall Give Himself Up

OPPOSITION PLEDGED BY OFFICERS' UNION

Germany's Only Proposition Will Be Trial In Teuton Court

By CARL D. GROOT

(United Press Staff Correspondent) BERLIN, Feb. 6 (Delayed).—Germany will resist to the uttermost the Allied demand for surrender of Teuton war guilty, according to statements of prominent leaders today.

"The whole government thinks and acts as I do," Matthias Erzberger, minister of finance, told the United Press. "We are in complete agreement with the will of our people."

Erzberger is credited with being one of the strong men in the government who forced Germany to sign the Versailles treaty.

Field Marshal von Hindenburg and General Erich Ludendorff, whose names are prominent in the list of accused, both take the stand that no officer shall surrender himself voluntarily upon delivery of the demand the Lokai Anzeiger said.

It was denied officially that Germany will propose to the Allies that the war guilty be tried before a neutral court. Germany's only proposition will be that the accused be tried before a Teuton court at Leipzig with the Allied powers fully represented.

The entente list of accused will be published Saturday or Sunday, according to semi-official information. Government officials were in constant conference today. Philip Scheidemann, chairman of the foreign affairs committee, had a long conference with Hermann Mueller, minister of foreign affairs and President Ebert.

The entente note, covering the list of war guilty, was expected to be delivered tonight or tomorrow through either the French or British charge d'affaires.

Baron Kurt von Lersner, former head of the German delegation in Paris, who resigned rather than transmit the list of war guilty to Berlin, arrived here today.

"The Allied demand for such men as von Hindenburg, Ludendorff and Mackensen, whom all the fatherland loves and whose guiltlessness, is above doubt, must be hindered at all costs," he declared.

"If Germany delivers these leaders she signs her own death warrant," von Lersner continued. "If she refuses this shameful demand, then her enemies, too, again will have long sleep for Germany."

The National Union of Officers, it was announced has pledged the lives of its members in opposition to the deliveries and called upon the nation to "stand firm."

"I am entirely certain the Allies cannot get together in Germany any government which can accomplish the delivery of the accused men," Count von Bernstorff, former ambassador to the United States, told the United Press.

"I believe you have been long sleep for Germany," he said to the correspondent, "that you must realize that nobody here even is going to attempt to bring about their surrender. It would be simply out of the question to attempt to lay hands on von Hindenburg."

Bernstorff reiterated his willingness to surrender as far as he personally is concerned.

Characterizing the Allied leaders as "a handful of power-blind politicians," Count Max Monteglas said the "no longer felt bound to his previous offer to surrender himself."

"If it were possible to increase the folly of the world, which for the last 18 months has been ruled by a handful of power-blind politicians, then it has been in this delivery list," he added.

Herr von Mayer, recently appointed charge d'affaires at Paris, refused to return to his post to accept the allied list, it was learned. He will remain in Berlin.

AMUSEMENTS

THE CHIEF CAUSE OF DIVORCE
A noted cynic once said of marriage: "The first forty years are the hardest!"

That the married life of millions of people is unhappy is proved by the divorce records.

What are the reasons?
One of the reasons is bared in "Blind Husbands," Universal's sensational photodrama of the Tyrolean Alps.

The film story, which is to be shown on Thursday, February 12, at the Temple theater, was produced under the direction of Eric Stroheim, who also plays the leading role.

In brief, the story shows how a so-called dutiful husband ground the embers of his wife's love in the dust of indifference and made her heart vulnerable to the advances of a love-buzzard.

The story of "Blind Husbands" was written by Stroheim from an incident that occurred under his observation while he was on a vacation tour in the Alps.

Supporting him in the cast are several screen celebrities, among whom are Franchella Billington, Sam DeGrasse, H. Gibson-Gowland, Valerie Germonprez and Jack Perrin.

KENTUCKIAN WHO HAS HAD PROPERTY HERE SINCE BOOM IS DEAD

James Threlkeld, who has owned property in Santa Ana since boom days, died suddenly of apoplexy while riding on a street car in his home town, Maysville, Kentucky.

During the boom in the late eighties he bought two lots at the corner of Second and French Sts., and he has held the property ever since. For years he has subscribed to Santa Ana papers, and he kept close tab on what was doing here. He visited Santa Ana a year or so ago.

He was assistant cashier of a bank at Maysville, where he had been in the banking business for thirty-seven years.

GETS LEASE ON LOCATION ON SYCAMORE

The Sutorium has secured a lease on the store room at 309 North Sycamore street, and has begun moving its equipment into the building. The front is to be changed by the owners, Reinhaus Bros., to fit the needs of the new tenants. The room has been used for a pool room for a number of years. Recently the Japanese proprietor sold the place and now the pool room is closed entirely. The Sutorium has been located on North Main street in the building soon to be occupied by J. C. Horton's furniture store.

Another transaction of consequence to the east side of Sycamore streets is being completed today in clearing up the debris left in tearing down the old lean-to shack formerly used as a Mexican restaurant. The structure was condemned some months ago and has been vacant. A piece of city sidewalk is out in front of a part of this property.

YOUNG PEOPLE GUESTS OF CHURCH AT DINNER

The new and the old evangelism had their innings at the First Methodist church Thursday evening when seventy-two young people were the guests of the church at dinner in the social hall of the church, and following the dinner and the inspiration of a few songs, the pastor of the church spoke on the objectives of the new day and the young people dedicated themselves to Christ and the kingdom program.

Evangelist Dave Hill delivered his last sermon at 7:30, and spoke of "The Glory of the Church." It was a passionate message, and involves, "letting Christ do in us what he came to do, and that is to glorify Himself."

"Every member of the church," he said, "should seek the glory of God, and be willing to lay aside the things that do not honor or glorify Jesus."

Rev. John Oliver will preach tonight, and on Sunday the campaign of special services at the First Methodist church will close.

STAGE DRIVER ACCUSES DRIVER OF AUTOMOBILE

Otto R. Lane, a stage driver, has sworn to a complaint, prepared by Deputy District Attorney Menton, charging Albert Cushman of Los Angeles with careless driving. Lane said that Cushman tried to pass when another machine was approaching, and bumped into the stage, damaging the stage and his own machine.

The accident occurred on the state highway below Tustin.

VIOLATED BUILDING RULE, BEFORE JUDGE

That it is a violation to cover up electric wiring in new work before it is passed on officially by the city electrician was brought forcibly to the attention of Roy Parker, Roy Carson and Orlando Parker yesterday when they were brought before City Recorder Heathman for putting lath on a building before the electrician had given his official O. K.

Each was fined $5 and the fine suspended. It developed that the inspector had been at the work and ordered a certain change made by the electrical contracting firm. The lathers supposed that the inspection had been made and went to work on the job.

There was no wilful violation of the ordinance and Heathman took this into consideration when he suspended the sentence.

PAIGE

The Most Beautiful Car in America

The Car That Fulfills All Promises

The sense of satisfaction in owning a seven-passenger Paige Essex "Six-55" is two-fold.

Primarily, of course, the owner of a Paige Essex is gratified because his good judgment in choosing it is confirmed by the car's sterling qualities of reliability, sturdiness and luxurious comfort.

But there is an added satisfaction in owning the Essex because of its impressive appearance. It has all the distinctive beauty of higher priced cars, and none of the expensive disadvantages.

As a practical vehicle, free from the burden of excessive "up-keep," the Paige-Essex is given quite general preference among cars of seven-passenger size.

Hudson Records Are A Triumph of Type

It Keeps the Mastery in Speed, Power and Endurance Through Exclusive Control of the Super-Six Motor

How completely Hudson's supremacy is acknowledged. Its records are not held by hairbreadths. They overshadow all others by conclusive margins.

They bespeak the mastery of a type. That is clear to all.

Consider that Hudson's leadership is not divided. It is not merely the fleetest of cars. It holds all the worth while power and acceleration records, too.

But chiefly it is famous for endurance. No other car has ever shown such endurance proofs. Look at the records. Even more important, observe how 80,000 Super-Sixes now in service, confirm all the fine qualities Hudson has proved in scores of tests.

Hudson's Finest Qualities Are Exclusive

The Hudson is a triumph of type. All it has done is due to the exclusive Super-Six motor, which minimizes vibration and increases motor power by 72%, without added weight or size.

That principle accounts for Hudson's unequalled endurance. It accounts, too, for its great advantages of speed, hill-climbing and power over any other type.

And unless Hudson consents no other maker can use the principle of the Super-Six motor. It is the only supreme feature ever controlled by a single maker.

Such records as the double trans-continental run of 7,000 miles in 10 days and 21 hours would have been impossible without it. Again its endurance was revealed in speedway racing. For time after time Hudson special racers, embodying the Super-Six principle defeated swifter racing machines, some of which cost upwards of $40,000, simply because the Hudsons kept running, when the terrific pace forced others to the repair pits.

It is noteworthy that Hudson records have stood for almost five years. In other fields five years have seen practically all records topple. The Hudson retains supremacy, because it has the exclusive right to the Super-Six motor.

It is the Most Wanted Fine Car

Its sales prove that. Ever since its famous tests proved Hudson the greatest endurance and speed car, it has been the largest selling fine car in the world. Now more than 80,000 are in service.

The demand has always been in excess of supply. In some seasons thousands have waited months for delivery of certain models. That condition is we have every reason to believe, will be repeated this year.

Therefore, if you intend to get a Hudson, you will save disappointment by ordering ahead of the desired date of delivery.

BRICK GROWS IN POPULARITY AS AMONG BUILDERS

Costs Little More Than Lumber, Prospective Builders Find

H. Garber, owner of the Santa Ana Brick Yards, reports January as having been the largest month in point of sales and deliveries since coming into possession of the business last August. Deliveries approximating a quarter of a million brick have been made by the Santa Ana Brick Yard during the month of January.

People are also beginning to recognize the possibilities and value in hollow wall brick construction for residences, the eight-inch hollow wall probably being the most popular, because of the economy in material.

"I have furnished brick for several houses recently," said Mr. Garber, and am receiving inquiries every day asking about comparative costs in brick and frame construction.

Mr. Garber was a builder and contractor for twelve or fifteen years prior to going into the brick business and he is well fitted to give reliable information in such matters. As a concrete illustration he said that in asking for bids on a five-room bungalow, the owner asked for an alternate, calling for exterior walls of eight-inch hollow construction, laid in Flemish, the exterior to be white stucco under a carpet float.

The exterior cost on this specification was only $250 in excess over the ordinary frame and siding construction, painted two coats.

It was easy to see that the difference in cost would be saved in the first five years in painting alone, and as the owner was building for permanence he chose the brick construction without hesitation, knowing that he would still have a well preserved house when a frame building would depreciate much more rapidly and eventually become an incumbrance on the property.

"With lath at $28 and almost impossible to get in quantity at that," continued Mr. Garber, "the use of brick need not be confined to the outside walls only. Plaster can be applied directly upon the brick wall with perfect success without the use of any lath whatever."

Incidentally, Mr. Garber remarked that the manufacture and moving of a quarter of a million brick in one month represents a pay roll of about two thousand five hundred dollars, practically all of which is spent in Santa Ana.

TO SAVE OUR FORESTS

The Committee on Forest Conservation of the American Paper and Pulp Association has made public a set of recommendations intended to facilitate the adoption of a definite forest policy.

In the first place the committee urges a national survey and classification which will "determine present supplies and designate areas suitable for watershed protection, and those suitable for future timber supply."

It urges also the extension of public purchase of cut-over lands. Public forests should be twice their present area. The production of large-sized timber is too long a process to interest large amounts of private capital, but it is a paying business for the public.

The third recommendation calls for vigorous co-operation between state and national governments to reduce the present enormous annual loss by fire.

Uniform forestry laws are needed, and state encouragement for nurseries. There should be state-paid experts on the job. An immediate program for replanting the vast areas which have been left barren by short-sighted methods of the past is of vital importance.

It is a straightforward enough program. All that is needed is an intelligent public demand that it be translated into action, and officials who can rise to the work and carry it out thoroughly and promptly. It is estimated that our annual consumption of wood, including loss by fire, storms and insects, is now two or three times as great as the annual growth. What is going to be done about it?

THE "BABY STRIKE"

French Socialists are responding to Premier Millerand's "more children" proclamation by a propaganda urging a "baby strike." This, they say, is the surest preventive of future wars. They argue that the more babies, the more men there will be for armies; and the larger armies, the more probability of war, and so an endless round of sacrifice.

It is a doctrine that was heard a good deal during the war. And as an abstract proposition, those French Socialists are doubtless right about it. If women would stop bearing children, wars would certainly die out for lack of cannon fodder.

There are just two flaws in the argument. One is that it will not work unless it is applied to all countries at once. If France alone stops producing children, that merely makes it easier for some prolific nation to make war on her. It was this very situation, in a moderate degree, that gave Germany the advantage over France in the present war—the chief superiority of Germany and the chief cause of German confidence lay in the fact that starting about equal, Germany had out-babied France by many millions.

The other flaw is that those Socialists ignore human nature. Do not women, after all their centuries of suffering from warfare, still love babies more than they hate war?

CANNED FOOD PRECAUTIONS

Experiments conducted by the Department of Agriculture at Washington have proved conclusively that various deaths from ptomaine poisoning in the past few months were genuine cases of "botulism." This was suspected in most of the cases at the time. It is well to have authoritative corroboration, in order that people may realize the danger and know how to protect themselves. The government food chemists have performed a useful service in providing the necessary information and incidentally sweeping away some mischievous misunderstandings about the matter.

Contrary to current belief, botulism hasn't anything necessarily to do with olives. The bacillus botulinus is found sometimes in ripe olives, but it is just as likely to be found in many other kinds of fruit—or in meat or cheese, for that matter. Neither is it necessarily connected with canned food. It was first covered in sausages. If it is found now mainly in canned food, this is because canning has become the most common method of preserving food.

Fresh food, of course, does not contain this poison. As the government bulletin explains, it is not always contained in spoiled foods; but spoiled food may contain it, and do.

so is always to be guarded against. The precautions recommended are rather simple. "Thorough cooking will remove the possibility of danger from botulism." If the food seems wholesome, and yet the consumer wants to be perfectly sure, the food may be well cooked and then eaten. If there is evidence of spoiling detected by sight, smell or taste, the food should be thrown away.

In most of the cases recently observed, it is said that the contents were observed to have a bad smell when the cans were opened. That should have been enough. It should also be enough to cause the discarding of the food if the can is seen to be bulging from internal gas pressure, before it is opened, or if the contents are found discolored, or if there is an evident "rotten" taste.

As for the proportion of cans likely to come under suspicion in this way, it is pretty sure to be small. Most housekeepers will probably testify to opening cans for years without finding a spoiled one. An occasional can or bottle will spoil, whether put up in a factory or in a kitchen, and the odds are said to be in favor of the factory.

Cemetery officials in Cleveland have forbidden people to sleep in the Erie cemetery. So Cleveland still runs true to form. We don't know of any other town where people would either want to sleep in a cemetery, or forbid other people to do it if they wanted to.

This is getting to be such a whopping big nation that the people that the census enumerators overlooked would fill an ordinary country.

The Prohibition party has picked Lincoln, Neb., for a national convention next July. That will be an appropriate place to nominate a certain grape-juice enthusiast as its standard-bearer.

Hoover's Politics

Minneapolis Journal

Herbert Hoover, like General Pershing, is a man without a party. That is the chief liability of his candidacy for president at present. An absentee from America most of his active life, he is said to have cast but one vote in an American election. That was for a Republican. On the other hand he has been the appointee and instrument of the present administration in the work of war relief and food administration. That may label him a Democrat.

But as a matter of fact, the actual opinions of Herbert Hoover about political questions are not known. Whether he has retained his early Republican ideas, or has imbibed those of the administration, or has worked out a political philosophy of his own, no one but himself apparently knows. The New York World which has been the "court organ" of the Wilson administration, now declares for Hoover and cares little by what party he is named, so long as he is named.

But there is no similar enthusiasm as yet among party leaders. The Democrats disown him, and the Republicans do not ask for him. Either is willing to let the other have him. Each accuses him of being bound to the other's political creed. And yet Mr. Hoover possesses elements of strength as a candidate, because he has done great things in a masterful way, and because of the belief thus engendered that he would prove a great administrator in the presidential office.

Administrative ability is of the greatest importance, particularly in the present state of the Union. But this is not everything. Political principles are essential. This is a government by political parties. It has always been so, and doubtless will continue to be so.

Before the candidacy of Herbert Hoover can be intelligently discussed, before it can be accepted by one party or the other, the principle of Herbert Hoover under which he would seek to guide the ship of state must be known.

The Aggressive Sex

San Bernardino Index

Should a woman propose to a man? Do they? Is Leap Year to be taken seriously by the fair and gentle sex? Miss Evelyn Greeley of film star fame has laid down the rule for the woman who would be wed and who hasn't been asked. It isn't necessary, she says, for any woman to propose. She can always make the man do that job. But she can and should give him a little judicious help.

Miss Greeley is right. It never has been necessary for any woman actually to propose marriage to any man. She can always make the poor male creature think he is doing the seeking.

Bernard Shaw long ago exposed the fiction that woman is the pursued and man the pursuer. The fact is that it is just the other way round. It is the business of the fair sex—a business inherited from thousands of generations of ancestors, branded into the race by evolutionary development—to get herself a mate. Woman's business is primarily with life—with the race. In the main, she shoots at that mark unerringly. It is part of her business of getting herself a mate to make the poor, deluded male creature think that he is doing the pursuing; that she is the masterful, domineering, "stronger" sex; that he is the courageous protector of the "weaker" sex. And part of her business in life is to make mere man do the actual proposing.

But every woman, consciously or unconsciously, must smile a little to her inner self when the male creature is safely hooked and landed, has "popped the fatal question" and received his hesitating and blushing "Yes!"

Of course women should not propose. Miss Greeley is right. They don't have to. All they have to do is to make the man do it. And they

Hearin' Things

Motoring

There may not be any "automobile shows" next year. Instead, if the automobile people have their way about it, there will be "motor car exhibits," or more simply, "motor shows." The aforesaid automobile people are tired of the word, and very likely have a right to be.

"The word 'automobile' is awkward and clumsy," one of them complain. "You may shorten it to 'auto' but then it doesn't sound right." The term is certainly unsatisfactory. It looks as if it might be French, and very likely did come from France, but it is a mixture of Greek and Latin. "auto" meaning "self" and "mobile" meaning "moving," wherefore "self-moving" or "self-propelled." Purists say that such "hybrid words" are always bad. This particular hybrid was probably no worse than most of the substitutes first proposed, among which such gems as "petrocar" and "electrobat"—the latter, apparently, having at least the merit of being pure Greek. But "automobile" is long, longer than most of the vehicles it is applied to, and people don't agree on its pronunciation; and while it may serve as a noun, it doesn't sound right as a verb—you don't "automobile," but you either "drive" or resort to some devious substitute.

So the tendency is to adopt the terminology already in vogue in England. The English have a knack of simplifying things, anyway. They make the vehicle in question a "motor car," in general calling it simply a "car," and when they go anywhere in it, they "motor." That ought to be good enough for anybody. On with the "motor show!"

To print anything like that charming bit from William Dudley Pelley's "The Auctioneer," which appeared in this column yesterday, is sure to call forth appreciative response. So today comes a man who must have, or have had, a beautiful mother, and asks that this passage from William Dean Howells be printed:

I have carried these my preferences through life, and I still regard old ladies as angelic, in so much that I have never seen one that I did not revere. I do not know when they begin to look old to other eyes, but to mine they never look old, as old men look. Very likely some of them may once have been silly, and some naughty, but they do not show it, while all the goodness and wisdom of their youth has grown upon them. I should like to touch here, but barely touch, the thought of the dear and lovely lady which has all this time been in the back of my mind, as a supreme proof of the highest praise that could be given to aging woman. She was of the finest modernity in her love of the best things in literature and life, and could no more err in taste than in truth or the beauty which is one with it. She is gone now, who was so lately here in such perfection of mind and soul that it seems as if she could never have left us who were privileged to share the bounty of her wisdom and grace.

The quotation I would leave with you today is another symphony or creed, which I found in the George Junior Republic, credited to J. H. Tewksbury:

MY ENDEAVOR

To be joyous in my work, moderate in my pleasures, faithful in my friendships; to be energetic but not excitable, enthusiastic but not fanatical, loyal to the truth as I see it but ever open-minded to the newer light; to discourage shams and rejoice in all that is beautiful and true; to do my work and live my life so that neither shall require defense or apology; to honor no one simply because rich or famous, and despise no one because humble or poor; to be gentle and considerate toward the weak, respectful yet self-respecting toward the great, courteous to all, obsequious to none; to seek wisdom from great books and inspiration from good men; to invigorate my mind with noble thoughts as I do my body with sunshine and fresh air; to prize all sweet human friendship and seek to make at least one home happy; to have charity for the erring, sympathy for the sorrowing, cheer for the despondent; to be indifferent to none, helpful to some, friendly with all; to leave the world a little better off because of me; and to leave it, when I must, bravely and cheerfully, with faith in God and good will to my fellow men—this shall be my endeavor during the coming life.

FULLERTON MAN BUYS GROVE AT REDLANDS

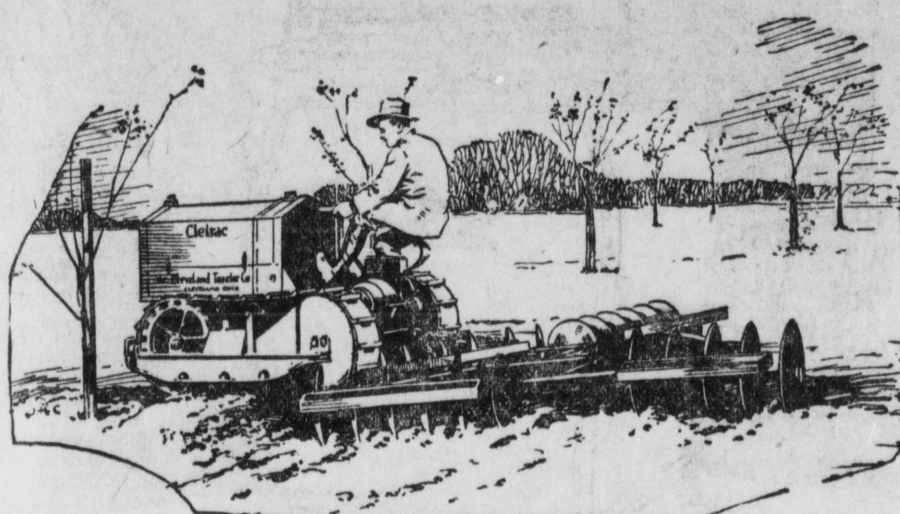

REDLANDS, Feb. 7.—One of the finest orange groves in the Redlands district changed hands last week, when Mrs. Clara I. Bowen sold to E. L. Ranney of Fullerton, the thirty acres she owned on the Greenspot. The crop on the trees this year is valued at $25,000 or more, and the grove sold for $85,000.

Ranney is the father of the man who bought the Hartzell grove in East Highlands. He has sold his property at Fullerton and will come here to live.

Of the thirty acres, twenty-seven are planted to full bearing navel and Valencia trees, mostly navels. There is a good water right in the Montone Irrigation Company, and the Bear Valley Mutual Water Company.

It's The Motor That Makes The Briscoe Economical

Every drop of gasoline that you buy for a Briscoe gives you full value on mileage returns because the "Half Million Dollar" motor in the Briscoe is designed to give two miles on gas where you got only one before.

The gasoline enters the carburetor—is completely vaporized by the hot spot and high velocity intake manifold. It goes into the cylinders—as powerful as "TNT."

The exploding gas easily propels the light weight pistons in the small bore cylinders—and the long stroke gives so much leverage on the heavy crankshaft that less power is consumed in turning it. This is why less gasoline is required to turn the rear wheels of the Briscoe than any other car. That's the reason it traveled 51.2 miles on a gallon of gasoline.

Fidelis Class Entertained

Twenty members of the Fidelis class of the Congregational church were charmingly entertained at dinner yesterday by Mrs. E. M. Nealley at her beautiful home in Tustin. The Nealley home has become a true "social center" and many a good time is being enjoyed in the congenial atmosphere.

Bowls and baskets of violets and hyacinths adorned the table. Places at table were drawn by lot, occasioning much gaiety and the guests were served with a delicious four-course dinner. Progressive games followed.

Mrs. Nealley was assisted by her niece, Miss Josephine Roy, and Mr. Nealley.

Mrs. Chas. Beardsley of Clarks, Neb., mother of Mrs. Nealley, was a guest at the pleasant affair.

League Cabinet Dinner

A very delightful little dinner party was given last evening by the old Girls' League Cabinet of the high school in honor of the new officers. The dinner was held at the home of Miss Bernice Bull, last semester's president.

The menu consisted of creamed tuna on toast, scalloped potatoes, a salad, and a delicious dessert of whipped jello and cream served with waffles.

Following the meal, the girls were called on, one by one, to give speeches. Miss Bull wished the new cabinet good luck, but Miss Dickey, the new president, could only say that she was ashamed of her appetite. Miss Violet Cook, retiring vice-president, said that she hoped the new cabinet would give the old a dinner next, and her successor, Miss Anita Cox, expressed appreciation to the old officials in behalf of the new, for the good time.

The other girls made a resolution to stand by the League and uphold its principles at all times. With Miss Holly Lash at the piano, the girls sang some old sweet songs and some new popular ones.

About twenty attended the party and Miss Daniel, faculty advisor for the League, heads the list. The girls think a great deal of her and appreciate her help, which she never refuses them.

The officers present were: Misses Grace Dickey, Bernice Bull, Violet Cook, Anita Cox, Mary Hendrie, Louise Ford, Helen Mater, Glennia Jean Hill, Grace Robertson, Holly Lash, Dorothy Carothers, Martha McKune, Frances Egge, Verla Jackson, Doris Bowen and Isabel Lopez.

The hospitality of Miss Vanche Plumb, and the assistance of Miss Josephine Bull received grateful praise from the party of happy girls.

About 8 o'clock the girls left for home, all with a word of gratitude for their hostesses.

Tea served in the dining-room at the close of the program. An invitation to the public is extended.

Leap Year Party

The Christian Endeavor Society of the First Christian church gave a Leap Year and Valentine party at the community house last evening. Invitations were sent out before-hand to the boys by the girls. Each boy was called for and taken to the party by a girl.

The evening's festivities, planned and carried out by the girls, included progressive games and "stunts" performed by the girls. Miss Pauline Porter and George Wilson took prizes in the games.

After spending a jolly hour or two at the community house, the girls drove the boys—presumably home, but met eventually at the creek crossing Main street, as pre-arranged, and a wicker bake was enjoyed.

The girls showed exceptional technique as escorts when each presented a boy with a box of candy on the way home.

Altogether, the evening's entertainment was very successfully "put over."

To Have Good Paper

The Monday Club will hold an open meeting on Monday evening at the home of Fred Rafferty, 1117 East Tenth street. The paper of the evening will be given by E. M. Nealley on the subject, "Wanted, a Philosophy of Life."

Book Review Club
The monthly meeting of the Book Review Club will be held Tuesday evening, February 10, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Nealley, Tustin. Rev. P. F. Schrock will review the book, "The Undying Fire," by H. G. Wells.

Drama Section Meets
The Drama Section of the Ebell Society met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. F. D. Hawkison, 412 West Second street. Mrs. G. M. Bacom and Miss Beulah May having charge of the program for the afternoon.

Mrs. Bacom reviewed "Mrs. Pat and the Law," by Mrs. Mary Alden. Miss May reviewed "Will o' the Wisp," by Doris Halman.

The reviews given were full of "pep" and humor and were very amusing as well as instructive.

The hostess had her rooms beautifully decorated with ducress roses and ferns. She served ice cream, cake and salted peanuts as refreshments.

Two members were added to the section's roll, Mrs. F. P. Nickey and Mrs. G. M. Bacom.

Surprised On Birthday.
It is generally quite difficult to "put anything over" on Mrs. G. F. Ludlow, but the plans of her husband worked out beautifully on Tuesday evening, when he planned a surprise for her natal day.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Anderson invited Mrs. Ludlow to attend the movies

It was a gay party which gathered about the festal board to enjoy the dainty collation and Mrs. Ludlow was given several appreciated gifts and showered with the good wishes of her friends, who numbered the following: Mr. and Mrs. Joe Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Hays, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Brown and daughter, Isabelle, Mr. and Mrs. James Parker and daughter Daisy, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Becker and daughter Miss Alice Decker, Mrs. Bess Kenze, Miss Amethyst Tedford, Miss Harriett Shigley, and Mr. Ted Davidson.

Entertain for Daughter.
Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Lee, 709 Lacy street, gave a pretty birthday party last evening, celebrating the sixteenth birthday of their daughter, Golda Cook.

Blue birds and red hearts were used as decorations. Sixteen cubes of sugar were suspended from the chandelier with little blue birds fluttering among them, suggesting in a clever way "Sweet Sixteen."

Games and music were enjoyed. Jane Crawford and Ralph Greenwald giving the musical numbers.

Refreshments consisted of sandwiches, pickles, olives, cake, ice cream and coffee.

Those present beside the honor guest and her mother, were: Elma Holmes, Caroline Holmes, Edith Reynolds, Lela Roll, Eva Nearing, Mary Backman, Selma Simmons, Sadie and Clara Rutledge, Elizabeth Vaughn, Jane Crawford, Mrs. Tom Simmons, Houston Vaughn, Tommie Alexander, Ralph Greenwald, Harold Greenwald and E. M. Backman.

wedding ceremony was performed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Crane in Garden Grove Thursday evening at which ceremony their youngest daughter, Lila, and Lewis Covell of San Jose were married by the Rev. Francis, pastor of the Baptist church of Garden Grove.

Only the relatives and a few friends of the bride were present. Mrs. Fred Mott, a sister of the bride, played the wedding march.

The living room where the ceremony took place was transformed into a bower of white lillies and ferns. A bridal couple stood under a large bell hung from an arch of blossoms and greenery.

The bride was gowned in white pearl-embroidered georgette crepe over satin. She carried a shower bouquet of sweet peas, Roman hyacinths and ferns.

After receiving congratulations, and the guests had seen the many beautiful wedding gifts, dainty refreshments were served. The bride then slipped away and changed to her traveling gown which was a chic creation of French blue tricotine.

The bridal couple motored to Los Angeles where they took the train for New Orleans and Florida. Upon returning to the coast, Mr. and Mrs. Covell will make their home in San Jose where Mr. Covell is employed as engineer with the Southern Pacific railway company.

Mrs. Covell has a host of friends in this vicinity who wish her much happiness in her new environment.

LIFE WAS A MISERY TO HER

Says this Woman Until Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Carrollton, Ky.—"I suffered almost two years with female weakness. I could not walk any distance, ride or take any exercise at all without resting. If I swept the floor or did any kind of work it would bring my sickness on. I was weak and languid, had no energy, and life was a misery to me. I was under the care of a good physician for several months and tried other remedies. I had read of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and decided to try it. After taking twelve bottles I found myself much improved and I took six more. I have never had any more trouble in that respect since. I have done all kinds of work and am present as an attendant at a State Hospital and am feeling fine. I have recommended your Vegetable Compound to dozens of my friends and shall always recommend it."

Mr. Valentine is busy getting plans and material preparatory to the erection of a new house on his home place. The house now occupied by him has been sold to Thomas Plant, manager of the Terminal hotel, for the people of Detroit, Mich. Plant will remove it from the Valentine ranch and place it upon the ten acres owned by his mother-in-law, Mrs. Stephens. Mrs. Stephens will remodel it and make of it a splendid home.

Nathan Harmon while coming home from San Pedro, one day last week, broke the clutch on his Overland machine, but it is now in the hands of repair men. "Nath" says it works better than ever.

Joe Harmon of Illinois has written his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Harmon, that he has purchased a new Chevrolet and will make the trip across the country in his new machine.

W. R. Young (Billy) is still wearing his leg in a plaster paris cast, and walking on crutches. He had a very narrow escape from a severe fall one day last week.

Dr. George Washington Schroder was in Wilmington last Tuesday looking after his property there.

Rumors persist that drilling for oil will commence at an early date in this vicinity. Many rumors have been traveling heretofore in this vicinity but this one seems well verified.

Martin Christiansen is busy putting in cement pipe lines for a number of the ranchers in this vicinity. Martin has employed his brother-in-law, Mr. Gibson, to drive his Ford truck.

Word was received that Clarence Reynolds of Los Angeles passed away, a victim of the flu. Mr. Reynolds was a brother of Mrs. D. A. Moyer of Toledo, O. Mr. Reynolds was ill only a week. At the time of his death the entire family was also ill of "flu," but none of the family so ill as the father, and at the time of the death of the father it was thought all would recover.

That "Ghost" Again

The ghost that for months has been visiting Harperville, again made its appearance the past week. This time there were three persons who were witnesses to any that might be skeptical. Dr. George Washington Schroder, H. B. DeWitt and Senator Amos. These three gentlemen were simultaneously the victims of a strange occurrence. All of them were standing in their front doors, looking eastwardly, when suddenly, so they all assert, a sweeping, swishing whispering sound attracted their attention, then with the speed of the wind itself, there passed from southeast to northwest a white object in human form, that moaned as it traveled. It was all the experience of a moment. On comparing notes, these witnesses found that their similar experiences occurred at exactly the same time, with this exception, that Senator Amos saw two spirits.

Dr. F. P. Rossetol attended the Retreat meeting for Congregationalist ministers held last Thursday in the First Congregational church of Los Angeles. The corner stone of a new church building located at Wilkesboro was laid Sunday afternoon, February 22. This is the church of which Rev. F. P. Rossetol is pastor.

Dr. C. A. Bowers, an old resident of Harperville and now of Huntington Beach, is the fisherman of the past few days. The doctor fishes from a private dock near his residence and is selling fish to his many friends and giving them to others.

The Brotherhood of the Los Alamitos church is preparing to play real ball this summer. They are determined not to repeat the work of last summer, when they lost a number of closely-played games. This year the boys will play better ball than ever. They are awaiting challenges for the coming season.

Mrs. Newsbaum is entertaining her sister and family, who recently arrived in California from Denver, Colo. The family will make their home in California and the two sisters are having a wonderful time visiting together.

George ("Toke") Oertly, the popular feed and fuel man of Long Beach, has been suffering from a severe cold, but at the time of latest information was on the way to recovery.

Ted Haugh and mother-in-law were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rollin R. Rossetol, and were entertained at a good dinner last Friday evening.

The Register boy's whistle is still in action, and may be heard regularly each evening. This splendid service is much appreciated by the many readers of the Register in this vicinity.

Every available tract of real estate around and about Harperville has been sold recently and some of the ranches change hands often. The Hanson ranch just north of Harperville has been sold in the last few days.

The Benchley Fruit Co. is picking oranges in this section and the last crop to be sold and picked is that of the Christiansen family, one mile north and west of Garden Grove.

Mr. Ticer has purchased the three-cornered piece of property at the corner of the Pacific Electric railroad at Mesto station. Ticer will at once place irrigating pipes on the land and proceed to improve it in every way.

Harry Ackerman, who recently purchased five acres of oranges near Anaheim, is busy planting some young orange trees where he had some vacant land left unplanted.

Martin Seaver, the chicken man of Harperville, reports his chickens now in good health and doing business after being attacked by a number of chicken diseases.

Wintersburg-Smeltzer

WINTERSBURG & SMELTZER, Feb. 7.—Mrs. C. E. Pratt has received a letter from her mother, Mrs. Wilson giving the details of the funeral of the father, A. B. Wilson, which was held on January 29th, at their home city, Indianapolis, Indiana. Mr. Wilson passed away January 20th at the home of his daughter, Mrs. C. E. Pratt of this place, and on the 22nd, Mrs. Wilson and her son Walter Wilson returned to the east taking the body there for burial. Arriving at Indianapolis on the 25th, the body lay in state at the home of a son until the following day, when the funeral service was held at 2 o'clock. In that interval over three hundred friends viewed the body and numberless floral offerings were placed about the casket.

Two of the sons were unable to be in attendance at the funeral. Both were in Florida and dared not chance the sudden change in climate.

Six grand-sons, young men almost of an age, acted as pall-bearers.

In spite of the cold weather, which caused the roads to be in an almost impassable condition, the funeral was largely attended and every detail was carried out in perfect order with nothing omitted that the family could have wished done.

Land Prices Soaring

Land prices are soaring skyward hereabouts, especially on the mesa section where some consider the best oil prospects to be located. However, the offers have not so far been accepted by the land owners who appreciate as readily the possibility of future gain by holding on to their property as the prospective land buyers realize the future advances in sight.

Mr. Thornton, who owns twenty acres, mainly mesa land, with a few acres bordering on the lowlands, refused an offer of $17,000 for the piece or $550 an acre.

Ralph Huff also had an offer which a few months ago would have seemed a preposterous price, that of $750. Up until the time of the oil boom, mesa land if sold at $250 or $300 was considered as going at a good price.

Dr. H. G. Huff has moved to Huntington Beach, to his home which he has been having remodelled. Ralph Huff and family will move at once to his father's ranch. Just prior to leaving here Dr. Huff purchased a Ford coupe.

Thomas L. Clay, wife and daughter, Ruth, of Los Angeles are spending the week end as guests at a home of their brother-in-law, W. F. Slater.

Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Jordan, parents of Miss Ruth Jordan of the Oceanview faculty, were here from Fullerton Thursday as all-day guests at the W. F. Slater home.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Moldal drove up to Etiwanda Monday to the Walter Henderson home where Misses Della and Edna Moldal are making a two-weeks visit. Upon their arrival there they found the Henderson family had the "flu." The Misses Moldal had not contracted the disease the last heard from them.

Mrs. B. A. Farrar was having her home freshened up with new paper and paint this week. The painter and paper-hanger are from Huntington Beach.

Mrs. S. A. Stockton, of Santa Ana, daughter, Miss Eunice and sons, Everett and Morris and Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Hadley were guests for the day Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Stockton's and Mr. Hadley's sister, Mrs. F. M. Pryor.

The frame work of W. F. Slater's new house is up and the carpenters are almost ready to commence putting on the siding. The new home is expected to be ready for occupancy by April.

Mrs. Geo. B. Crane has just received bad news from relatives in the east. A sister-in-law has contracted the flu, according to a letter written by Mrs. Crane's brother, the morning his wife was taken ill and a brother-in-law was not expected to live. The latter had the flu a year ago and as a result he was left in a paralyzed condition, and is rapidly growing worse. A sister has also had the disease and is just recovering, the same letter also stated.

Entertain Visitors

On Wednesday evening, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Blaylock were hosts at their home to a party of relatives, in honor of Mrs. Blaylock's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Hadley, of Jersey Island, who have spent the past week here about.

The pleasant evening was spent in a most delightful way by the assembled party and an abundance of delicious home made candies was served by the hostess.

The party included beside the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Blaylock, their daughters, Miss Frances and Julienne and sons, Charles, Wallace and William; the honored guests, Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Hadley, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Pryor, daughter, Carmen and son Carl, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Worthing, daughters, Miss Viva and Miss Vanona, Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Worthing, all of this place and Mrs. S. A. Stockton, Miss Eunice Stockton and Maurice Stockton of Santa Ana.

Mr. and Mrs. Hadley remained as over night guests at the Blaylock home and Thursday morning went to Santa Ana. From there they go to Whittier to visit at the home of a sister, Mrs. Dave Johnson before returning to their home in the north. This visit to Whittier had been postponed on account of Mrs. Johnson being ill with the flu. She is now over the dangerous stage and well on the way to recovery.

A Mr. Hall, late arrival from Alberta, Canada, has been employed by Geo. Crane and will commence work on the Crane ranch at Wintersburg next Monday. Mr. Hall, his wife and two children arrived from Canada about three weeks ago and are at present guests of Fred Conway and family, a brother-in-law. Mr. and Mrs. Hall will move in a few days to the Crane ranch.

"A Problem or a Programme—Which?" will be the theme of Rev. J. Scott Wilmart's sermon at the Wintersburg church next Sunday.

Talbert and Vicinity

TALBERT, Feb. 7.—Miss Von Greunikan, principal of the Fountain Valley school, missed the major part of Thursday from school on account of an ulcerated tooth, with which she was suffering greatly. She was unable to get a substitute teacher and returned at afternoon recess and taught the remaining period, and also taught for a short day Friday, dismissing school at three o'clock.

N. H. McCulliston was here from Los Angeles Thursday on business connected with his ranch property. Several members of the Ed. Helm family are very ill. Blanche and the two younger children took ill Thursday and are confined to their beds and Dorothy was thought to be taking the same disease Friday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Ward, after attending church in Santa Ana Sunday morning, motored on to Orange County Park for the rest of the day. Mr. Eggert has returned from Sawtelle, where he spent several days while working on his lot in that city. Mr. and Mrs. Eggert expect to move to their new home in a few days, as the house has been moved onto their lot and is now ready for occupancy. The family has been detained several weeks waiting for the house movers.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. McMillan and family of Smeltzer, were Sunday afternoon visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Culver.

Miss Jessie Courreges was in Los Angeles for the day, Thursday.

Steve Fox, who has been plowing twenty acres for Ed. Helm, finished the job Thursday afternoon.

S. E. Talbert started planting sugar beets Monday. He will plant ninety-three acres on the east side of the Pacific Electric track as soon as possible. About forty acres had been planted up until Thursday night. The ground is in a moist condition, due to going over frequently with various implements so that it is unnecessary to irrigate before putting in the seed.

A. P. Vincent was in Los Angeles Monday and upon his return Tuesday made the trip in a new Oakland "Six" roadster which he purchased.

Elden Jones, who with his wife, moved the first of the week into the Talbert house, formerly occupied by Alva Weddle and family, entered the employ of S. E. Talbert on Wednesday.

S. E. Talbert is finding the work of finishing off the high school athletic field at Huntington Beach rather an indefinite job. Four teams have been working several weeks and the surface is now off to a depth of two feet. Considerable blasting has been found necessary to get the field hardpan.

Mr. Hubbard of Huntington Beach, was a Thursday afternoon caller at the C. W. Wells home.

L. T. Wells was in Santa Ana Tuesday and remained over Wednesday as a guest at the home of his stepdaughter, Mrs. Berry Stice. Mrs. Wells and the children spent the night of Mr. Wells' absence with Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Wells.

Mrs. Roy Manley and little son, Mervin, were Sunday callers at the Robert Wardlow home. The family now reside at Zaferia, but were Talbert residents for a number of years.

Walter C. Smith and daughter, Nellie, of Oakland, arrived Wednesday at the R. Courreges home. Mr. Smith, who is a stepson of Mr. Courreges, remained as an over-night guest and returned north on Thursday, leaving Nellie, who will remain for some time with Mrs. H. Lacabanne.

Mrs. T. B. Wells, Mrs. Arthur Fisher of San Pedro, and Mrs. Dunham of Long Beach, and Floyd Wells of Aberdeen, South Dakota, were Tuesday visitors at the L. T. Wells home. Mrs. Wells is an aunt of L. T. Wells and Mrs. Fisher and Floyd are cousins. The latter came out to make a farewell visit, as he was leaving at once for his home. Three weeks ago he arrived, having been called to the bedside of his father, Thomas Wells, who died a week later.

Chamber of Commerce

The Chamber of Commerce held its regular monthly meeting on Monday evening, at which delegates were appointed to represent this district at the meeting to be held at the Huntington Beach on Tuesday, February 10. The delegates, who are as follows, George Trapp, C. L. McCumber, Dr. D. W. Hasson, Wm. Gherhardt, Dr. Schofield and J. F. Simpson, will present the attitude of the people of this district in the proposed new division of the supervisory territory. The committee in charge of the public camping site reported a lack of funds and a subscription was started at which all members subscribed liberally. The subscription is in the hands of A. Nelson and all parties interested in furthering this project will do well to look him up. The proposition of camp sites is splendid advertising as the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce publishes maps on which only towns with public camping sites for tourists and neon place on maps. The ball game between the Buena Park grammar school boys and the team from Orangehorpe school that has to have taken place on Tuesday afternoon has been called off because of the reported illness of one of the teachers. The Buena Park library board will open to the public the library which they have wished to open for some time. It is through the kindness of Dr. Ashmore that they have been able to secure a room in his offices in the Warren Apartments. The library will be open to the public Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday afternoons from 2 to 5 o'clock, and Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday evenings from 7 till 9 o'clock. A story hour will be established for the children in the near future, the details of which will be announced at a later date. The library board has been very fortunate in securing Miss Anna Lubkerman as librarian. Miss Lubkerman is very well known in Buena Park circles and it is felt that she is eminently capable of taking care of the library work.

Word has been received from Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Cookson, who went north a few months ago, that Mr. Cookson is ranching on 250 acres near Redwood.

TOMORROW'S SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

PRACTICAL NOTES PREPARED FOR THE REGISTER

By Cal. Ogburn

Lesson for Feb. 8. Acts 9:32-43. Peter at Lydda and Joppa. "Eneas... had kept his bed eight years; for he was palsied,"—v. 34. Who took care of Eneas during this long period in invalidism—a wife?—or a mother? No mention is made of this caretaker, and we wish that there had been, for this silence doesn't seem quite fair to whoever it was. But have you ever thought of the unsung heroism of those who today are sacrificing their lives in caring for helpless invalids? Well, go a block from your home down this street or that and you will find "Eneas" and his wife or mother or daughter, all of them "shut-ins." He because of helplessness from sickness or as the result of an accident, and she for the reason that she is Love's servant to the one to whom she ministers. Maybe you were thoughtful enough of "Eneas" to take him "a bouquet right out of your own garden," and you sat by his side and read to him. If so, you thought at the time that you were acquiring yourself with a great credit. You were actually giving him an hour of your precious time. But what if it had been eight continuous years, with the great prospect of as many more? Listen! When you go again, will you not take two bouquets, one for "Eneas" and the other for his loving caretaker? And won't you stay twice as long, and thus permit his faithful lover to go to a "movie" or for a ride into the country? Your chauffeur will be glad to take her in your auto.

Oh, yes, she does enjoy—sometimes—hearing that canary in its cage in "Eneas' room," if she can forget the monotony of it all, but how much more for her would be the song of the wild, free lark, and the roundelay of a bevy of untamed blackbirds. The canary makes her think of the humdrum life of two "shut-ins"—herself and "Eneas;"—the broad country and the free things in it of the time when she will have a never-ending freedom. Had you thought this all out for yourself, before it was suggested?—and then indefinitely postponed doing it!

The most that one person can do for another who is in need is the very least that duty requires of him. Many had ministered to Eneas during his eight years of helplessness, and Peter might have been just one more such minister, for "half an hour or so,"—and then that service would have been duly appreciated by the sick man and by those who were "almost worn out caring for him." But Peter could do much more than this—and he did it. Maybe you can do a great deal more than you are doing to recover the health of some "Eneas?" A bouquet with a "hope-you-will-soon-be-better" are poor things indeed if "Eneas" must pay for them with another week of suffering. What can you do to restore him to health?

How do you receive the service that is rendered you? No, not that of the "friend" who drops in occasionally for a few minutes' chat, but the endless attention you are receiving from "her," who has given up everything—but drudgery—that she may minister to you. Are you peevish, irritable, "cranky"—unreasonable in your demands—unappreciative of what is done for you? Stop! Have you ever "figured out" just what the service you are getting would cost at "hospital rates?"—and that, too, without either the sympathy or love that is so large a part of the daily and nightly ministry you are receiving? You said "Thank you" to that friend for the flowers, but how often and with what depth of meaning, do you say it to "her" for the life she is sacrificing for you?

"Full of good works and almsdeeds which she did,"—v. 36. There are numerous ways of classifying people. As to ministering to the needy, a great many belong to the "do-nothing" class; a considerable number are the "diddle" class. A noisy and talkative lot are the "woulds," who overwork the conjunction of uncertainty. "If I had time, I would; if I were able; if I had his money; if I were he"—and so on endlessly. Dorcas was not of any of these. She had heard that the Master had said, "The poor ye have with you always, and whenever ye will ye may do them good." And will ye may do them good? She was now one of that Master's disciples. It was up to her to "do something for somebody," so that like the woman who anointed Jesus, he might say of her, "She hath done what she could." There are many now who are eligible for membership in the Dorcas Society. We read about occasional large gifts of money for social betterment. But, in the aggregate, the gifts of the poor to one another are much greater, though seldom do any of these get into print. If it had not been for Dorcas' death and restoration to life, nothing would have been said about the coats and garments that she had made. Sing about the munificent gift of "Old Moneybags," but make no mention of "Dorcas," who is giving her very life in the service of the poor. But, after all, what does she care about "publicity?" She has no time to look at a word-painting of herself in the newspapers, and still less inclination, for she is working overtime relieving poverty and distress. God bless "Dorcas," and those to whom she ministers. "Delay not to come unto us. And Peter... went,"—vs. 38, 39. If you were bereaved or in great trouble, for whom would you send? When death enters your home, who is the more welcome, the man or woman of God, or the leader of your social set? And who sends for you, when there is crepe on their front door? Nobody? Then perhaps it is because that without godliness there is a recognized limit to one's usefulness, therefore you receive no invitation to the house of mourning.

"All the widows stood by him weeping, and showing the coats and garments which Dorcas made, while she was with them,"—v. 39. The fact that Dorcas' death may have intensified the appreciation of these widows for what she had done for them, but it was not the beginning of their gratitude. People who are not thankful to the living for favors received are too callous to weep sincerely at the funeral of their benefactors.

go to Church Sunday

Every human heart has its need. The old Czar of Russia, father of the late Nicholas, who was the most colossal of Monarchs, forgot his grandeur at the bedside of his dying wife, and broke forth into uncontrollable lamentations when he found she could no longer reply to his affectionate salutations. Gambette in the hour of one of his oratorical triumphs, fell into passionate weeping, unstrung and unmanned by the death of his aged mother. Carlyle mourned for weeks, refusing comfort, when his wife died. We are all the same kind of material. We need some panacea for the sorrows of earth. That panacea is in the GOSPEL OF CHRIST. There you may bring your wounded heart and find comfort. There you may bring your perplexities and find help. The church stands to point the way to the Christ of the cross who is the world's great burden bearer. Will you not go to church tomorrow? You may not be amused or entertained, but if you go in the right spirit you will be comforted, helped and saved. The churches of Santa Ana invite you.

How to Judge the Safety of Securities

"Experience has shown that the study of the entire field of financial literature would not suffice to equip an individual so thoroughly that he may judge investments without help. It is most decidedly recommended that an individual contemplating making an investment should consult a responsible banking house. Don't try going it alone. Magazine of Wall Street, Nov. 29, 1919."

IN order to practice medicine or law, years of study and experience are necessary in order to pass the examinations and qualify as an expert. An investment expert must have an equally thorough training. Conditions affecting investments are world wide. The judging of securities is a science worthy of the best efforts of the keenest minds. We are specialists in California securities. We invest our own money in the securities we recommend only after a thorough investigation by attorneys, accountants and expert appraisers. In this way we safeguard the money of our clients. An interview will enable us to demonstrate to you the care we take in analyzing the investment problems of our clients. If you cannot call, write or telephone for our latest investment list.

COURTHOUSE NEWS

MEXICANS WARNED MUST FEED HORSES

Mexicans who are working underfed teams may take warning by arrests made today by Constable Jesse Elliott and Deputy Sheriff Willson. Complaints have been made that several Mexicans who live at Delhi and who haul manure are using teams that fairly stagger in the harness. Santiago Carranza was arrested for using weak horses and Joe Gallegos for using a horse with a very sore shoulder. Gallegos was allowed to go when an adjustment was made in his horse's collar. Carranza was given a ten-day suspended sentence and was warned to either feed his horses better or quit working them. Margarito Padilla was arrested for driving an exhausted horse. His boy and three other Mexicans went out to cut green grass by a roadside. When the horse stopped from weakness the Mexicans got out, shoved the wagon on the horse, started him and climbed aboard. Warning was given the Mexicans concerned, and suspended sentences were produced by Justice Cox.

INHERITANCE ACCOUNT IS SOUGHT BY STATE

An action to determine the amount of inheritance tax due the state has been brought by State Controller Chambers against the heirs of J. B. Rea, Anaheim pioneer, who died last August. Before his death, according to the complaint, Rea disposed of property valued at $30,000. The action is the usual procedure when an estate of consequence is distributed before death.

SENT TO SAN QUENTIN

Ernest E. Rudzler was yesterday sentenced to San Quentin. He pleaded guilty to a charge of burglarizing the Nimmo ranch house near the Palisades. Evidence showed that the man had no settled place of abode.

JAHRAUS SAYS LOTS SOLD WITH PROMISE

Yesterday the taking of evidence in the trial of the action brought to enjoin the Laguna Beach Co. from selling cliffs frontage at Laguna Beach for any other than park purposes was completed, and argument by attorneys will be heard by Judge Williams on February 13 at 2 o'clock. Yesterday the most important witness for the property owners was E. Jahraus, agent who sold about 250 lots in the Laguna Cliffs tract. He said that he told many buyers and prospective buyers that the frontage was reserved for parks, and that in telling them he had the instructions of the Laguna Beach Co. to that effect.

The contention of the defense very clearly is that after the resolution of the company some years ago dedicating the frontage as for park purposes, there was never any acceptance by the public, and when some of the property was sold to H. G. Heister, the dedication lapsed and became of no effect. For the defense, J. W. Roberts and Georgia Denning testified they had bought property without any promise that the frontage was for park purposes.

SANTA FE LINES HALT IN TRIBUTE

For a period of five minutes today all activities on the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe system were stopped as a tribute to E. P. Ripley, for many years president of the Santa Fe, whose funeral services were held at 12:00 o'clock at Santa Barbara. The period was from 12:05 on the coast lines; 1 to 1:05 on the Western lines and 2 to 2:05 in the Eastern lines, whose terminus is Chicago.

The order was issued at the general offices of the Santa Fe in Topeka yesterday. Many prominent officials of the Santa Fe have gone to Santa Barbara for the services.

This—is The Word You've been Waiting for!

After 25 years of waiting—of working—of slow progress—during which time we've said nothing, but gone ahead spending our own money, testing out soil conditions, developing water and "just sawing wood"—we are ready to have you look this district over and investigate it as thoroughly as you want to.

No matter what your wants may be we can show you land that will grow anything known to Southern California, except those products requiring a tropical climate or coast fogs. We can show you the finest homesites in all California; and numerous commercial and industrial opportunities seldom encountered with so many favorable conditions.

NOW WE ARE READY

To invite Citrus Growers. Twenty-five years of demonstration show that the earliest navel oranges, the finest lemons and grapefruit, are grown in this district. We had to develop the water before we could claim the attention of citrus men. It took time and money to develop water for thousands of acres; but now the water is available. We are ready to talk with the best citrus experts in California, and can offer them opportunities at figures that will astound them.

To the men who know Apricots, Peaches, and Pears—and the Profits to be derived from their culture, we now have something of interest to say. It is absolutely established that we have the land, the climate, and the water for them. In addition, before giving you this invitation we built ourselves a $50,000 cannery—one of the finest units of the California Growers' Association, with 475 grower members. Here you have the land, climate, water and market. We want you to come over and thoroughly examine all our advantages.

If you want Walnut Land—come over and make your own investigations. Talk to our growers—examine the soil—check up on the climatic and water conditions—compare ours with other proved walnut localities. And then when you are satisfied that we have what we claim—what you want—you will find you can make big savings on the purchase prices asked here.

This community's preparatory work has been done. There remains but one thing necessary to have every acre of land utilized as ranches or homesites—all of the commercial and industrial opportunities developed to their greatest extent—and that is to tell the world exactly what we have

If you have kept in touch with the amazing advance in the culture and marketing of Ripe Olives—the large yields and excellent results to be obtained from growing them where size and flavor are assured, we want to tell you that we positively have the best Olive district in California. We can prove this to you. We can also assure you of a good market. The Albers Olive Company, one of our local producers will take your crop. Regardless of what your preference may be in fruit culture, investigate the Olive as it is grown here.

It has taken years of study and experiment to put this business where it is today in our district—but again we say, we are ready, we invite your investigation.

For general farming, dairying, alfalfa seed, deciduous fruits, etc.—investigate the MARIETTA VALLEY. For 25 years we have known that this wonderful locality took precedence over all others in Southern California, but we were unable to invite you to come here because land was not available. Marietta land owners were farming from a thousand to two thousand acres each—and snapping up every bit of land that came on the market. But with the years we have been able to show them that development of communities produces more wealth than the cultivation of enormous acreage. More homes, more people, better schools, greater social and business activities. Now some of our Marietta folks have decided to subdivide their holdings at extremely moderate prices and let new people in. Here's your opportunity.

here. This is our invitation to you to come and investigate; if you wish, we will help you in making it most searching; and further, we will gladly assist you in making the most advantageous selection for your purpose.

For 25 years the great day-deposits at Alberhill have been prospected and worked. During all this time research work has been going on—and now we know that one of the greatest industrial positions on the Pacific Coast is soon to be realized at Alberhill. This preparation has been thoroughly and carefully done. We are ready for scores of factories, using our practically inexhaustible beds of fine clays of various kinds and production possibilities.

If there is a more beautiful setting for a country home in all of California we are willing to be shown. Come and see some of the new homes erected by men who are well known throughout the country as prominent business men. See what they have accomplished in this valley of ours—where Nature in her most generous mood is found. The ideal climate—the mountains—the lake are here waiting for you to enjoy them to your utmost. Many homesites on the upper slopes had to be prepared for you. Water developed and at hand. We waited for good roads. Boulevards from Los Angeles, Riverside, San Diego, Corona—all are ready for your use and enjoyment.

What wonderful development lies ahead for the city of EL SINORE—built on the shores of the lake; with its wonderful hot springs at numerous places in the city. Good roads, the automobile and motor bus, have placed this city in easy reach—just the right location and distance from all the larger centers in Southern California. With business opportunities galore; all the way from rental of cottages, development of the resort possibilities on the lake, tourist hotels, and numerous commercial activities, all offering safe investment and profits for hundreds of thousands of dollars. It is waiting for you here.

HEWES RANCH AT EL MODENA IS SOLD TO NEW CORPORATION

CARLOAD AUTOS LOST BETWEEN PONTIAC AND SANTA ANA

Railroad Officials Unable to Get Trace of It Anywhere En Route

Lost somewhere between here and Pontiac, Mich., is a carload of Oakland machines belonging to Edgar & Hays of this city, local distributors for this manufacture.

The carload left the factory about six weeks ago and the agency has been expecting its arrival most any day during the past two weeks. The carload is lost not only to the agents but to the railroad management and despite persistent "tracers" the company has been unable to locate the missing car anywhere along the line.

It has disappeared as completely as it would were the ground to open up and swallow the whole carload. Whether it has been "copped" along the road by some agent in need of Oakland or whether it has been shipped to a point other than that to which it was consigned are points that have not been cleared by a large amount of telegraphing that has been in progress in an effort to find the car.

In the meantime parties who have made deposits and who expected the arrival of the machines before this are suffering disappointment and the agents a great deal of inconvenience.

The firm today has no idea when the load will arrive, neither do they know whether it ever will reach its destination here.

LIGHT WEIGHT BASIC PRINCIPLE, BRISCOE

"All the clamor about light weight, as though it were a new discovery during the present season, causes a great deal of amusement to those of us who have watched the development of the Briscoe," said C. H. McCausland, distributor of Grant and Briscoe.

"If there is one basic idea that may be said to have been responsible for the inception of the Briscoe more than any other, it was that every pound of surplus weight meant a definite shortening of tire life and an added load on the motor, which inevitably decreases the gasoline mileage.

"Briscoe engineers saw an opportunity to produce a new type of car which would retain the maximum of sturdiness and yet would not be glued to the ground by excess weight. They may be said to have introduced the thoroughbred type of car as distinguished from the draft horse.

"The 1920 Briscoe is merely the logical development of the policy of building lightweight, racy cars which the company has always followed.

Former Resident of This City Tells of Beating Of Kearney by Tom Rule

Dennis Kearney, leader of the Sandlot party in 1877, 1878 and 1879, met one of his Waterloos in Santa Ana. He met several different kinds of Waterloos, including the defeat of the sandlot movement, but here in Santa Ana he met a physical Waterloo. Big Tom Rule, who worked for the McFaddens, gave Kearney a big two-fisted beating that is always referred to as one of the events of early days in this city. The story of the affair is told in an article contributed to the Register's Old-Timer series by W. H. Marquis, for years a resident of Santa Ana, now a resident of Monrovia.

Perhaps a brief review of the activities of Dennis Kearney in California should be given as introductory to Marquis' story of the beating administered by Tom Rule to Kearney. Here goes.

Kearney was the leading Bolshevik in California in the seventies. He was an I. W. W.

Of course, he was not known those days as a Bolshevik or as an I. W. W., but the Bolshevik and the I. W. W. of today have nothing on Kearney when it comes to radical views and anarchistic advice.

Kearney was a political product of hard times. The years 1877 were dry years in California. The years were probably as wet as usual so far as booze was concerned, but they were dry in rain. Cattle died, farming was at a standstill in lots of places in the state, and building and enterprises in general were halted.

It was breeding time for discontent, and San Francisco fairly sizzled with it. Out of the discontent came what was known on the ballot as the Workingman's Party. It was soon nicknamed the Sandlot Party, for the reason that the mass meetings in San Francisco were held on a sand lot. Today we designate the I. W. W. speakers as soapbox orators. Those days they called the agitators sandlot orators.

Dennis Kearney was a drayman in San Francisco, an Irishman by birth, naturalized some four or five years before he sprang into prominence as a leader of the radical element. Then, as now, there were

Uncle Henry Comments On Pixley and Luders

"For be it from me to fling col' o' gentlemen, I'm tellin' ye. When water on the proceedin's, but as near as I kin make out, the bottom seems to hev fell out o' a lot o' things that usta go to make life pleasant like fer folks in this part o' the country," said Uncle Henry, who had his feet cocked up with the utmost nonchalance on the desk of the city editor of the Register.

"I wuz 'minded of this mos' pertickler a couple o' weeks ago when I read o' the death o' Frank Pixley in San Diego. There wuz a feller thet contributed a right smart passel o' joy to livin', in his time—him an' Gustav Luders, who writ the toons fer the lyrics thet Pixley fixed up. Luders died a number o' years ago, an' we lost one o' the mos' expert writers a' light moosie this country ever hed. Now Pixley's gone too—and thet's what makes me feel kind o' cattawampus, like.

"Them two wuz a pair thet wuz hard to draw to. They fist knocked out a home run with the Burgomaster, 'way back in 1900, I guess it wuz, or somewhere's along about there. An' the Burgomaster went on the road in the course o' time an' fin'ly played a one-night stand here at the Gran' Opry House. They is a good many folks here yit thet reckon the ole Burgomaster, ez he wuz played here by Oscar Pigman. To see thet feller stump aroun' on his wooden laig, spillin' his Dutch dialect sort o' soft like, wuz a thing o' booty an' a joy fer ever."

"You seem to be getting some what poetic in your reminiscences," said the city editor.

"Can't help it," said Uncle Henry. "The fac' is, thet they don't seem to be nobuddy as kin take the place o' Pixley an' Luders. One o' thet things they put across after the Burgomaster wuz the Prince o' Pilsen which is a piece thet'll be remembered as long as there's ears left to enjoy lis'nin' to rippin', tinklin' moosie. The Prince o' Pilsen, like it wuz put on here by the comp'ny sent out by Colonel Savidge wuz one o' the finest thet the folks o' Santa Ana ever saw, wuz Jess Dandy playin' the leadin' comedy part.

"Then the two o' 'em came along with Woodland, an' King Dodo an' Marcell an' a raft o' others, some good, some indiffernt, but all o' 'em with something to 'em besides racket an' slam-bang.

"O' course, I ain't sayin' thet Pixley an' Luders put Gilbert an' Sullivan in the shade when it came to knockin' comic op'ries together, but jes' the same they writ like a couple

JIMMY AUSTIN IS RELIABLE: BIG PLAYS GO BY UNNOTICED

Laguna Baseball Colonist Is Subject of Complimentary Notice by Sport Writer

Jimmy Austin, gamey third sacker for the St. Louis Browns of the American League, is coming into his own in the way of complimentary "dope" by sport writers. Austin is almost an Orange county man, for he is one of the baseball colony at Laguna Beach, and he has hosts of friends here and throughout Southern California, who always are glad to note a word of commendation in the press.

Austin, in a measure, plays in hard luck, and that hard luck is due more than anything else to the way the fans feel toward him—they know that when a ball comes his way it is his; they don't expect him to fumble or miss it. They count on him doing just the very thing that he does. As a result, when he pulls off a spectacular play, it is taken as a to-be-expected event, and little notice is given his play. But if a new man on the diamond, more or less a novice, pulls such a play, he is lauded to the sky.

But it isn't Austin who is "kicking"; it is his friends, and particularly friends he has made in this vicinity since becoming a winter sojourner at Laguna.

Local readers of the Sporting News of St. Louis are finding considerable pleasure in reading comments by a sport writer in that publication, who gives Austin credit that is appreciated. The article follows:

Personal to Jimmy Austin

Herman Bronkie, who was bought by the St. Louis Browns a year ago with the expectation—or at least the hope—that he would solve the "third base problem" on Phil Ball's club, has been sold back to Indianapolis. And about the same time comes a letter from Jimmy Austin, who is wintering in California, in which Jimmy tells how fine and young he feels and how eager he is for the training season to open—not a question in Jimmy's mind apparently that he won't be back on that old third base job for the Browns as usual. If there's any "third base problem" with the Browns, Jimmy doesn't know of it. Maybe he's heard that the Browns are dickering for another third sacker, and he must know that young Joe Schepner will compete with him also, but just the same Jimmy has expectations that amount to a conviction.

When James Peter Austin reports to Manager Jimmy Burke at Taylor, Texas, the 1st of March it will be the twelfth time he has journeyed to a big league training camp, and now Jimmy nears his fortieth year, but it's a pretty safe gamble that he'll be the first man in uniform and on the diamond and the last one off when the day's work is done and that he will exhibit a brand of pep that will make most of his team mates look like they were afflicted with sleeping sickness by comparison.

Jimmy may not be as young as he feels, his legs may be bad and his batting eye uncertain in a pinch, but you have to hand it to him for his energy, spirit and gallantry, and it's a pity there are not more Jimmy Austins in baseball. It would be a more attractive game if there were. The manager of the Browns may settle its "problem" this year—next year—and some other athlete will supplant Jimmy as the regular on the far corner of the diamond, but it won't cast Jimmy off like a wornout shoe, not if there is gratitude in Phil Ball's makeup, and we think there is, for Jimmy's pep is only equalled by his loyalty to his team and to his employer.

Even now, out in California, Austin is looking after the interests of the Browns. He writes that he has discovered a great pitcher, but that the pitcher has tied himself up to another major league club. That club, however, writes Jimmy, doesn't know how good the pitcher is and maybe it will overlook him. "If it does, then Jimmy's on the job, he'll snare that pitcher quick and bring him on for the Browns."

That's Jimmy—the same boy they have been trying to run off the Browns for ten years past.

DEMONSTRATION SAMSON MODEL M TRACTORS NEXT WEEK

L. G. Swales Receives Machine and Will Show It in Operation

With Myron Warner returning yesterday from ten days at the Samson school at Stockton, L. G. Swales, Samson agent, is today arranging to start demonstrations with the new Model M Tractor, the latest product of the factory.

Demonstrations will be made at a number of places next week, if the present plans are carried out. A machine is now on the floor and ready for active use. The new machine is a big improvement and has plenty of horsepower and can be used either in orchard work or in big fields.

Swales has been waiting for this machine for a long time. Last fall he sent his salesmanager, J. P. Murphy back to the eastern factory to investigate the machine and to interview farmers who were using it, or to its advent on the Pacific coast. Murphy's instruction were to make a rigid investigation and to satisfy himself that the implement was of the character that would give service and stand up under the hard grind. This information Swales wanted before tying up a new contract.

Murphy's investigations among users and at the factory were most satisfactory and upon his recommendations Swales recently signed a contract as agent for the local field. The places where the demonstrations will be made have not been decided as yet, but selection will be made in the early part of the week.

THIS is a panoramic view of the Hewes park, orchards and packing-houses that have been sold to a company headed by Frank P. Flint of Los Angeles and D. Eymann Huff, now manager of the ranch. The new corporation is to pay $1,000,000 for the property.

Business Home For 24 Years, Now Tenants Must Move

Paul Knauf and Geo. Faul, barbers, and E. M. Hawley, locksmith, must give up their business home—a home they have occupied for twenty-four consecutive years. April first will see them either out of business or occupying quarters in some other location.

Along with them will go the Geo. Post bicycle store in the room adjoining the numbers being 215 and 217 West Fourth street. The property belongs to W. A. Huff and Mrs. Susie Ruth-erford, and the tenants have been notified to vacate by the first of April.

Extensive improvements are to be made in the premises, and it is understood the two rooms will be occupied by one firm. Who this firm is has not been made public. One of the owners stated today that while tentative arrangements had been made, final action has not been taken, and therefore announcement of the name of the firm could not be made.

It will be twenty-four years next month since Knauf and Faul opened their barber shop in part of the room occupied by Hawley. Hawley took over the business he is operating today at the same time—and they will move out together. It is understood that a local firm, and not an outside firm, is negotiating for a lease on the two rooms.

WASS MOTOR DELIVERS TRUCKS AND BUSES

The Wass Auto Company has been active this week in delivering Reo trucks and buses. One twenty-passenger bus was delivered to J. C. Best for the Riverside line and one to C. J. Crosby for the Huntington Beach run.

Trucks were delivered to Wm. F. Lutz Co. and the C. H. Chapman Lumber Company.

The company "fell on" to a three-passenger Reo coupe this week and today L. E. Morrison is manipulating the wheel of the classy pleasure car.

MILLION DOLLARS PRICE PAID FOR BIG PROPERTY DEVELOPED BY PIONEER

Representing a transfer value of $1,000,000, papers for the transfer of the Hewes ranch at El Modena from the David Hewes Realty Co., composed of stockholders who were heirs of the late David Hewes, to the David Hewes Realty Corporation, to be composed largely of Orange County stockholders, have been placed in escrow with a Santa Ana title company.

Frank P. Flint, former United States senator, of Los Angeles, is to be president of the corporation buying the ranch and D. Eymann Huff, who has been manager of the ranch since December, 1915, is to be vice-president and general manager.

The transfer represents the large-est deal in real estate made in this county for a long time. The property, including Hewes Park, which was laid out and made by David Hewes and kept up admirably by his heirs is one of the best known properties in the county. It comprises 672.34 acres, of which 425 acres are in lemons, 212 in Valencia oranges, 15 acres in the park and the remaining few acres in the grounds and odd pieces. In the deal the new company secures the two packing houses used for packing the Hewes' Park brand oranges and lemons, a big well and pumping plant, and farm buildings, machinery and equipment, and all supplies on hand on Jan. 1, 1920, which is the date of the transfer to the new corporation.

While the ranch has been kept up in fine shape during the last few years, opportunity to develop it in the sense of bringing the orchards to the fullest bearing had not been what they could have been had not the property been hampered by being in the hands of the executors of the estate, no settlement of the estate having taken place. The new corporation will have a free hand, and there is every expectation that the orchards will be made to bear as they have never before borne.

To Develop It

In fact, specific arrangement is made for development, in the plans of those who are working together for the taking over of the property.

Under the plan, the purchasing company will be called the David Hewes Realty Corporation, will be capitalized for $1,500,000. It is proposed to take subscriptions for $1,000,000 in stock. Of that the David Hewes Realty Co., and amount, $1,000,000 is to be paid to the David Hewes Realty Co., and $100,000 is to be used in buying additional equipment, including a large quantity of fertilizer. The plan for financing the deal calls for the sale of stock at $65 a share, par value $100 per share. Bonds for $450,000 will be issued, so that the purchasers so far as the purchase price or $1,000,000 is concerned need raise but $550,000 in cash. It is considered by those familiar with the property that it today is worth at least $1,350,000.

The moving spirit in the big undertaking is D. Eymann Huff, and in the steps that have been taken he has the backing of many of the best known men of the county, Senator Flint and others of Los Angeles county.

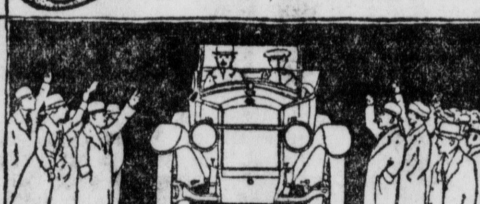

Huff ranks as one of the best known citrus men of the state. He has risen through merit. In December, 1898, he entered the employ of the Southern California Fruit Exchange in Los Angeles as office boy, at $15 per month. During the nine years he was in that office he advanced through numerous departments until he became the first assistant sales manager of the exchange.

Huff Advances

In December, 1907, he went from the exchange office in Los Angeles to Covina, where he became manager of the Covina Fruit Exchange, which position he left two years later to become manager of the Orange County Fruit Exchange, with headquarters at Orange, representing the citrus associations south of the Santa Ana river, of which there were two, marketing 30 per cent of the fruit of the district. In six years there were nine associations, marketing 70 per cent of the fruit from the district. He was manager of that exchange for six years. For six years he was a member of the board of directors of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange.

After the death of David Hewes in July, 1915, Huff was engaged as manager for the big citrus property. The crops are handled through the

Uncle Henry Bemoans

Marriage of Reuter

"Wall, wall, I'm all broke up this week over the fact that 'er Herman A. Riter dun gone and spliced hisself to that 'er school marm what's been teaching the young idee to shoot up at the Graham south at Los Angeles," said Uncle Henry, to H. A. Reuter's substitute this week, as he sat in his limousine in front of the First National Bank building.

"Yessir, 'ize all broke up," continued Henry, pausing for a moment to fill and light his cornob. "You know, I bin treating that 'er fellow like a prince all this time, feeling kinder like he might side up to one of me pretty gals. I'd kinder like to have him come down to me house wunce in a while and shove those big hoofs o' his under me table—that is when he became me sun-in-law; and, gol darn it, do you know that nothin' would have given me greater pleasure than writin' him out a check once a week for payin' his expense o' fedin' my gal and his self."

"My gals always were sure to come down town wit' me when they thought I wuz goin' to meet Mr. Riter. I knows they both was smilin' at him, but I thought all the while Lizzie had the edge like on Poly Ann, and I wuz beginnin' to figure as how I was goin' to buy 'em a nice home and fix it up with all the trimmin', includin' a den, where I could fire up my cornob and watch the rings of blue float away into thin air as he told me of his life over among the French gals, and what he thot of me as Daddy-in-law."

"But now that has all been spilted and me and me gals will have ter look for other prospects in the past t'rees green. Mr. Riter is right in assuming the respons'ilities of a married man. No man commences to live until he's hitched up.

"O' course, I could tell that 'er Riter man a whole lots of things that he should do and that he should do, but if I said that he'd miss much of the pleasure that comes from tryin' to master his 'boss'—and fallin' down."

"I hope the world ever will be as bright to him and his as it seems today an' that he may continue to pound that word foundry of his in the office for many years to come, to the edification of the readers of the Register."

"An' say, do ye kno' that Riter got me in bad with Jernigan last week. Sam tells me as how I don't know much about the gauges of guns if I tells Riter that Sam got a twelve gauge shell stuck in a sixteen gauge gun. That is one on Riter fer I didn't tell him that at all. O' course, Riter is excusable under the circumstances, fer I am satisfied that when he was op'rating that word foundry he wuz dreamin' dreams of kanubial bliss and that his mind was t'ousands of miles from the subject he was kotin' me on. I forgive him, tho', fer a man who's on the eve of a great adventure is mor'n liable to do the rong thing."

"My gals didn't cum down town wid me today, fer they's just hartbroken over the news. They's not here to remind me when it's time to go hum, but I kinder hev' the feeling that they's lukin' for me, so I'll say goodbye, with the hope that next week I will be able to take Mr. Riter by the hand and offer him me best congratulations, at the same time givin' him an careful o' fatherly advice as how to handle his latest acquisishun."

hatchmen, and the Southern Pacific Railway Co. had a number of coolies employed when constructing the road from Los Angeles to San Francisco. Did not the Chinese live mostly on rice which he imported from his own country, and pork? Did he not wear a pigtail? Did he not wear his shirt outside of his pants? Would he not do the meanest manual labor? Enough! He must go.

As a matter of fact, John Chinaman, unlike the Jap, was not into everything. He was usually a washee-washee man, a truck gardener, or a cook. He was, in the main, inoffensive, patient, industrious and attended to his own business.

In due time Dennis blew into the quiet little town of Anaheim, unloading a lot of his oratory on those who cared to listen, and departed for Santa Ana, where he put up at Jim Layman's hotel, a two-story frame structure that stood on the northwest corner of Main and Fourth, a site now occupied by the First National Bank.

One of the prominent residents of Santa Ana was a southern man, Mr. Fruit, who came to California after the war closed, bought a tract of land and later subdivided it and had the tract recorded as Fruit's Addition to Santa Ana. Just what Mr. Fruit's views on the Chinese question were, I am unable to say, but in any event, he sent a bus at his own expense to bring Kearney over from Anaheim.

Attacks Local Men
Imagine, then, the righteous wrath kindled in the soul of this southern gentleman when he heard not only McFadden Brothers and other prominent business men assailed, but himself made the target for abuse and vilification at the hands of the Irish demagogues during his afternoon harangue.

In the evening Mr. Fruit, Robert McFadden and several others were sitting on the hotel porch engaged in conversation when Kearney came out. Mr. Fruit introduced himself and informed the agitator that he (Fruit) was the person who sent the bus to Anaheim for him, saying further in effect, "If you are a gentleman you will state where you obtained your information concerning me and the other citizens whom you have been abusing."

Now Dennis was none of your common soap-box orators; not he. He very haughtily informed Mr. Fruit that it was none of his business; that he did not have to tell anyone where he got his information; that he was a public agitator.

By this time W. H. Spurgeon and a number of others had gathered around while Kearney launched into a fresh tirade of abuse. This was more than Mr. Fruit could stand, and, old man that he was, he rose up and struck at Kearney with his cane.

Suddenly Tom Rule's tall form appeared in the crowd and Dennis, scenting trouble, darted back into the hotel with Tom in pursuit. Through the bar-room, in one door and out another, fled the bully. Rushing through a doorway on to Fourth street and evidently anticipating the need of a supply of court plaster, he sprinted across to Mosher's drug store, and it was there Rule caught him. When Tom had finished with him Tom said: "You have been hunting all over California for this and you got it right here in Santa Ana."

Leaves for San Diego.
The following morning, with a chill March wind caressing his bruised and swollen face, Dennis Kearney boarded the stage for San Diego and Santa Ana knew no more forever.

Tom Rule deserved a better fate than came to him later on. Bowing out one day from the Landing with a Mexican, their boat capsized in the breakers and Tom was drowned. He was a powerful swimmer and it was thought that he must have been struck on the head by some part of the boat and so stunned that he failed to recover consciousness. The Mexican managed to swim to shore and brought the boat to town.

There was mourning that day in Santa Ana.

Against Chinese.
Now there was considerable anti-Chinese agitation in those days. The Chinese had their opium dens, their gambling joints, their tongs and do. "Yes, it's light an' clever, isn't it? he'll simmer, but it's hardly moode, donchaknow." An' in the meantime, here are us plain folks, that can't tell counterpoint from a fugue, enjoyin' the stuff that pleases us, an' thankin' our stars that there hez been sich men as Frank Pixley an' Gustav Luders to add a leetle real joy to our lives."

"Which brings me to what I been wantin' to ax our hotel manager fer a long time, whether he's runnin' two hotels in the Rossmore hotel buildin'. On the Sycamore street side o' the place he's got it all dolled up with a peach o' an entrance, an' a dingbaster o' a sign, readin' 'New Santa Ana Hotel,' whilst, on the Fourth street side they is a ole, weather-beaten sign, readin' 'Rossmore Hotel.' O' course, taint none o' my bizness ef he wants to run two different institootshuns, but I guess it wudn't hurt none ef he'd fix up the 'Rossmore' sign on Fourth street with some new paint. Them as wants to stay at the New Santa Ana Hotel won't hev no trouble findin' the location, but them as prefers to stay at the Rossmore portion o' the plant might hev some trouble locatin' it, unless the ole Rossmore sign is shined up some. Guess he's bin too busy handlin' the fine bizness the place is doin' to git aroun' to that o' sign, but I bet he will, all right."

"Taint gin'rly I calls attention to things that needs fixin' outside o' Orange county, but them there ornamental light posts thet's strung along the boulevard that runs through the San Fernando valley in Los Angeles county is a kind o' painful joke, what with the lamps themselves all busted to smithereens by rock-fingin' kids an' amachoor rifle experts. They ain't hardly a dum lamp post but ain't had most o' its lamps smashed, or at least the globes. Seems to me the folks thet hed them there fixin's installed 'ud git busy an' put in some new globes. As 'tis, the lamp posts ain't no durn use to nobuddy, 'specially at night."

Uncle Henry's two handsome daughters suddenly entered the news room, prepared to give the society editor the particulars of a big function given by them at the ranch east of Anaheim. The old man quickly and surreptitiously hid his cornob pipe.

"I guess I'll go downstairs an' wait fer the gals," said Uncle Henry, evidently "fussed." "See ye nex' week."

MILLION IS PAID

FOR HEWES RANCH

Orange County Fruit Exchange, of which Huff is a director.

The brands representing the fruit shipped by the David Hewes Realty Company hold a very enviable position in the markets of the country, on both Valencia oranges and lemons.

The company not only markets its own fruit but has in a limited way been handling fruit for other growers than itself and proposes to extend this operation of marketing fruit for others to a very considerable degree.

Huff is to take between one-fourth and one-third of the stock in the new company.

"In the new scheme the orchards will receive more intensive cultural care than has hitherto been possible," said Huff.

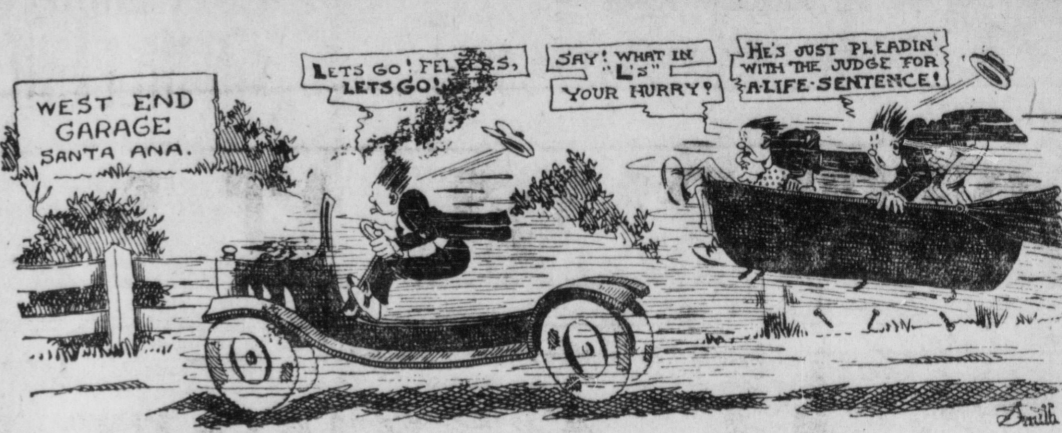

Owned by Hewes
This great ranch became famous under the ownership of David Hewes, California pioneer. Hewes came to California in 1849 by way of Panama, and during the fifties was engaged in contracting in San Francisco, where he leveled off hills and filled in areas at the waterfront. He afterward became associated with Leland Stanford, C. P. Huntington and others in railroad projects.

In 1881 Hewes and his wife first visited Tustin, and, finding the climate ideal for Mrs. Hewes' health, the property, then a sheep ranch, was bought. At first vineyards and barley were grown, and later came citrus fruit.

Hewes died in July, 1915, at the age of 93. Senator Flint, one of Hewes' heirs, became the dominant figure in the estate. The ranch in this county has been but one of the properties left by Hewes. Flint became the first stockholder in the new corporation, and he is confident that under the new scheme of things the property will be far more valuable than it has ever been.

It is proposed to keep up the Hewes Park in the same manner that it has been maintained by the former company and by David Hewes during his lifetime, free to the public but at no cost to the county or to the public.

When buying a tractor there are several things to be considered:

What is the first cost?
How many years will it last?
What will it cost for repairs?
What will it cost per acre to plow, etc., for oil and fuel?
How many acres will it plow in a day?
How much time is lost while tractor is being repaired?

The Opinion of a Man Who KNOWS

Solid brick is the only building material that does not crack or crumble under extreme heat. America's leading authorities on building materials, Kidder and Freitag, page 732, says:

"Dense tiling, when heated and cooled by water, is liable to crack from sudden contraction; blocks with two or more air-spaces are very liable to have the outer webs destroyed under this action. Even if not cooled with water, other fires have shown that hard burned terra-cotta will crack and fall to pieces under severe heat alone."

TERRORISM BY EXTREMISTS IN IRELAND

By WEBB MILLER.
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

BUBLIN.—(By Mail)—In their effort to drive the British government out of Ireland, the extreme section of Sinn Fein is waging a species of guerrilla warfare upon the Royal Irish Constabulary.

The more radical element of Sinn Fein has instituted a remarkable campaign of terrorism and intimidation against the police force urging systematic extermination by shooting from ambush and attacks in force upon police barracks. In the past few months scores of such attacks have been made in widely separated parts of Ireland, resulting in the killing of fifteen policemen and wounding many more.

The extremists advance the argument that the power of the British government depends upon the police force—that the government would be helpless and unable to enforce their laws if deprived of the support of the police. Therefore they intend to make the life of police unsafe and unbearable in the hope that the power of the government will be weakened.

In carrying out the campaign the leaders have started an unparalleled "class propaganda" directed against the Royal Irish Constabulary as a whole. Every argument to stir up bitterness and hatred is utilized. In some sections of the South of Ireland the leaders have ordered their followers not to associate with or speak to policemen and to report the names of any person seen associating with a member of the constabulary.

One of the newest devices to arouse hatred is a "chain letter" scheme.

The following document has been sent out to a number of Sinn Fein leaders with instructions to copy it four times and send it to four friends, who are to repeat the operation indefinitely.

"They have sold for silver the flesh and blood of their people.

"For money their hands are dipped in the blood of their people.

"What of the people? Shall they grasp the hand of Cain?

"They are the eyes and ears of the enemy.

"Let these eyes and ears know no friendship.

"See that there are none who shall associate with them. See you that those who do are treated likewise.

"The blood of our martyrs shall be on them and on their children's children, and they shall curse the mothers that bring them forth.

"And the Lord set a mark upon Cain."

So widespread is the fear inspired that in the hotbeds of Sinn Feinism in the South, the police are avoided like the plague. Even the former friends of the police, who are nearly all Irish, are afraid to be seen talking to them.

The government has been forced to close many outlying police stations and concentrate the forces for safety, and increase the patrols to three or four in a group.

In County Cork certain Sinn Fein leaders sent out formal orders declaring that every policeman and person in the "pay of England" are "deemed to have forfeited their life," and calling upon their followers to execute the orders.

A copy of this remarkable document is in the hands of the government authorities. It reads as follows:

"We hereby declare a military area with the following regulations:

"(a) A policeman found within said area on or after this date will be deemed to have forfeited his life, the more notorious police being dealt with as far as possible first.

"(b) Every person in the pay of England (magistrates, jurors, etc.), who helps England to rule this country or who assists in any way in holders of the foreign government will be deemed to have forfeited his life.

"(c) Civilians who give information to the police or soldiery specially such information as is of a serious character, if convicted, will be executed, i. e., shot or hanged.

"(d) Police, doctors and prison officials who assist at, or who countenance, or who are responsible for in any way connected with obtaining information from Irish citizens use against any other may be executed at sight as a common outlaw. Offending persons will be executed should it take years to track them down.

"(e) Every citizen must assist, when required, in enabling us to perform our duty."

As a result of this campaign of terrorism recruiting for the constabulary has come to a standstill, and it is rumored that the government is considering drafting several hundred policemen from London.

MILITARY ATTACHE FOR RED CROSS GIRL

LILLE, Feb. 7.—The time-honored tradition that only royalty and ambassadors may have military attaches has been broken in favor of an American girl here. She is Miss Ella Harris of Philadelphia, and her military attaché, assigned by the French army, is Captain Jules de Surmont, aid to General Lacapelle.

Miss Harris is the district manager of the American Red Cross for its work in the devastated district around Lille, and her activities have become so extensive and helpful that the French army authorities of the Lille district have assigned Captain de Surmont to her as special assistant.

The assignment to her of Captain de Surmont, who is the son of a cotton mill owner of Lille and thoroughly acquainted with the district, is an exceptional honor, for a French army captain is a high personage. It is intended that he help especially in tracing shipments of medical or relief supplies that are lost on the railroads, and in other liaison work with various French government bureaus and departments.

HOPES TO SAVE PARENT NAVEL ORANGE TREE

RIVERSIDE, Feb. 7.—Riverside's parent navel orange trees are still in the land of the living, despite stories to the effect that the city is mourning the death of the historical trees. The University of California citrus experiment station experts, in those care the trees have been placed, have not yet given up hope of saving the venerable patriarchs and authentic fathers of California's navel industry.

Reports concerning the death of the trees, which were brought to Riverside from Brazil forty-five years ago, are based on a grain of truth, the only reflection on their veracity being that the trees are not dead. A hard fight has been waged and is still being waged to save them, and at least in the case of the tree at the head of Magnolia avenue, and efforts bid fair to be successful.

"We are still holding out hope, especially for the tree at the head of the avenue," said Dr. J. T. Barrett, head of the department of plant pathology and acting director of the Riverside citrus experiment station, when asked concerning the condition of the trees and the truth of rumors concerning their death last night. "The condition of the tree on the avenue looks promising, although there has been no rapid improvement. There is really no connection between the roots of the tree and the top. The top of the tree is a great deal larger than the small graftings that were made, and until they develop sufficiently to furnish more nourishment it cannot be expected that the tree will show any wonderful improvement.

"With the tree in the courtyard of the Mission Inn the experiments are still incomplete and in process of development."

Until the work has been completed, Dr. Barrett stated, it cannot be known for a certainty whether or not the tree will be saved.

However, the fact remains that the trees are still alive, and although their death may be impending in that their recovery is not a certainty, no effort is being spared to bring them back to their natural vigor, and as long as there is the slightest hope the experiment station will continue its work.

HYDROMETER IS CRATE FACTORY WILL RESUME ON MONDAY

AN IMPORTANT ACCESSORY

Most car owners carry a tire gauge to test the air pressure in their tires. Many cars today are equipped with a device which indicates overheating in the motor. These are for safety-first purposes and in this same class comes the hydrometer which every motorist should carry in his car.

"A hydrometer is a glass tube with a rubber bulb in one end and inside the glass tube is a weighted float," says Earl Matthews, of the Orange County Ignition Works. "This instrument is used to test the specific gravity of the acid solution in a battery and it should be used at least every two weeks. To take a reading, the rubber bulb is pressed and the point of the hydrometer is placed in the cell; the bulb is then released and the acid solution is drawn up in the hydrometer. If you find the specific gravity falling below 1.275 the battery must be charged from an outside source."

"Many people, however, do not want to go to this trouble, and we are here for just that purpose. We will be glad at any time to take the hydrometer reading of any battery without charge."

20,000 ACRES WILL BE USED FOR CANTALOUPE

One hundred and fifty million cantaloupes is the mark Imperial valley cantaloupe growers have set for 1920. Twenty thousand acres of the best lands will be devoted to this crop which is one of the chief products of the valley. It is the ambition of the growers to produce a third and a half of all the cantaloupes which grace the American breakfast table.

Garden Grove

GARDEN GROVE, Feb. 7.—The Parent-Teacher Association held the once-a-month meeting at the school auditorium Tuesday afternoon. The president, Mrs. Kirven in the chair. There was a splendid attendance. The first grade enjoyed the treat given to the room being represented by the largest number of parents. They shared their cake with the second primary grade.

Prof. S. R. Fitz asked for the donation of a discarded rug to be used in one of the primary rooms.

Mrs. J. N. Anderson gave a very interesting and helpful address on the possibilities of Parent-Teacher work.

Pretty Home Wedding

The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Crane was the scene of a pretty wedding Thursday evening when their youngest daughter, Lida Vienna, became the bride of Louis Covall of San Jose.

At 7 p. m., the bridal couple entered the beautifully decorated parlors to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, rendered by Mrs. Fred Mott, sister of the bride, and beneath an arch of roses and fern they pledged their truth, Rev. G. A. Francis officiating.

A sumptuous wedding dinner was served to the many relatives and friends present.

The bride was gowned in white shimmering Georgette crepe embroidered with beads over white satin and carried a bouquet of white hyacinths and sweet peas. She is one of Garden Grove's most charming young ladies and will be greatly missed in social and church circles where she was a great favorite.

The groom is a valued employee of the Southern Pacific, having been engineer for the past sixteen years.

Mr. and Mrs. Covall left immediately for a tour of the south, expecting to visit New Orleans and points in Florida. On their return they will go to San Jose to make their home. The congratulations of a host of friends is extended.

Mrs. Philip Simon returned to her home Monday and is recovering nicely from her recent illness.

Dr. Frances Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. Fry and daughter, Frances, attended the Kansas picnic at Long Beach Thursday.

W. L. Russell and son Henry and family enjoyed Sunday with friends in Long Beach.

MESERVE IN FIGHT FOR U. S. SENATOR

Edward A. Meserve of Los Angeles, prominent attorney and leader, has definitely announced that he is a candidate for the Republican nomination for United States Senator.

Regarding platform, the Los Angeles candidate contends that inasmuch as he has been a Republican all his life, his duty to his party demands that he first adopt such party policies, with reference to national affairs, as may be promulgated by the Republican committee on platform and policies.

As regards his personal campaign, however, Meserve's most important platform planks will include:

The Japanese menace with constructive suggestions leading toward its complete eradication.

Unfailing support of the Federal Woman's Suffrage Amendment.

Reduction of Income Tax.

The Nation's duty to the American Legion and all ex-service men.

A Protective Tariff founded on the principle of Protection.

Americanism.

Obedience and Allegiance to the Constitution and all its Amendments.

Meserve's views on the Japanese problem are positive and to the point. Discussing this situation, the candidate says:

"Under the laws of the United States, Japanese and Chinese cannot become naturalized, but under the Constitution as it stands, a child born in America of Japanese or Chinese parents, by virtue of that birth, becomes an American citizen."

"This is Essentially Wrong."

"Whenever by virtue of race, a man or woman should not and cannot become an American citizen by naturalization, the child of that race should not become a citizen by birth, for the same arguments presented against their becoming citizens by naturalization speak with more force against their becoming citizens by birth."

"Proper statutes should be framed declaring it to be a fraud for the Japanese to use his money to buy or lease land in the name of a Japanese child, whether a citizen or not."

SERGEANT KERN USES MAXWELL ROUGHLY

When it comes to the question of the upkeep of a car, all motorists are roughly divided into two classes. One is that class who frankly state "I bought my car for pleasure, and it's no pleasure to me to be figuring how much it costs me every mile I drive, so I don't keep any account of gasoline or oil mileage."

The other class contains those "mechanically minded" people who secure much satisfaction from operating their cars so as to obtain maximum results at minimum expense.

"Such drivers will be interested in a careful driving showing made in the log of the Maxwell Marine, kept by Sergeant Harvey A. Kern when he made a recent recruiting trip for Major J. C. Fagan of the U. S. Marines," says G. H. Christian, Maxwell.

"Good records are easily established over good roads, but Sergeant Kern's record was made in a part of the country where good roads are known only through hearsay. In describing the merits of the Maxwell car for making a trip without trouble over the so-called roads he traveled in his 'land cruise' Sergeant Kern said:

"From the base of the grade across Ballarat Sink and up Wild Rost Canyon is some of the worst traveling I've ever done and I've traveled for Uncle Sam in out of the way places the world over. There is scarcely any road at all, and the vestige of one is very bad, full of boulders, nothing but rocks and ruts. There is another stretch even worse for a motorist, extending from the San Bernardino-Inyo county line to Pilot Knob, a steady drag of 40 miles of second gear work in fine sand over the rim."

"My trip of 519 miles contained some of the worst going in the southwest, yet the Maxwell Marine made it with only 23½ gallons of gasoline and six quarts of oil and I'd like to hear from the driver of any other car who could get over 22 miles to a gallon on a similar trip."

GORGEOUS SCENE AT ORANGE SHOW

SAN BERNARDINO, Feb. 7.—The Tenth National Orange Show, to open at San Bernardino on February 13 and continue for ten days, will be the most gorgeous in the history of Orange Shows, declare artists who have started well underway the final work on the big exposition.

A beautiful decorative scheme, embodying Maeterlinck's story of the Bluebird, will be interwoven with 1,000,000 oranges to create the scene of splendor. The night atmosphere will be intensified by the radiant colors of searchlights playing on great clouds of red steam that will rise from incense burners and cast a glow over the waters of the Orange Show park lake and among the trees and oaks. One could imagine oneself along the Mediterranean in the days of Old Italy or Spain, say the artists. Statues of Pomona, the goddess of fruit, will hold aloft transparent and illuminated California poppies. There will be a living vine and rose effect on lattice trellises along the main promenade.

Maeterlinck is expected in Southern California during the Orange Show and he will be invited to view the gorgeous spectacle staged by the citrus fruit growers of California to tell the story of the orange. Preparations have been made for the handling of more than 150,000 people. Prizes will be awarded to the growers of the most luscious California oranges, lemons and grapefruit.

For the Children

Too much care cannot be exercised in selecting a cough medicine for children. It should be pleasant to take, contain no harmful drug and most effective in curing their cough and colds. Long experience has shown that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy meets these conditions. It is a favorite with many mothers.—Adv.

RING ARTISTS GIVE BOXING EXHIBITION

A good card of boxing exhibitions was pulled at Grand Opera House Thursday night by Biner and Wood in their first bow to the public as producers of athletic events. There were four four-round events, with some of the top-notchers of Los Angeles mixing in the goes.

Wm. Biner, one of the managers, recently came here to make his home and is interesting himself in affairs of an athletic nature. He was amateur champion boxer of British Columbia at one time, and enjoys the game for the sport there is in it.

Wm. Scott is associated with them in putting on the bouts.

Two local men, Swall and Neal, were on the card, and proved clever men with the gloves. It is proposed to give such exhibitions about every two weeks.

About 400 were in attendance.

CLEVER ARTISTS AT YOST'S LAST NIGHT

Without plot, but full of life and music, the play at Yost's last night was entertaining for the large audience that assembled to witness the production of "My Honolulu Girl." The company is composed of good talent, a frolicking, singing aggregation of good talent. The audience was entertained in the way it liked to be entertained, judging from the hearty applause given.

It was all life from the time the curtain went up until it was rung down on the last act. Singing, solo and chorus offered the bigger portion of the program, for the dialogue was brief.

Eddie Lew Kraner was the funny man of the cast. He is a clever artist and never failed to make a hit with his songs and stunts. The Dollars and Cents.

Counting it only in dollars and cents, how much did that last cold cost you? A man may not always stop work when he has a cold, but perhaps it would be better if he did. It takes about ten days to get completely rid of a cold under the usual treatment. That time can be much shortened by taking Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and proper care of yourself, in fact, a bottle of this remedy in the house is a mighty good investment during the winter and spring months.—Adv.

CHEVROLET

OUR ANNIVERSARY

Q Just one year ago today our announcement as Chevrolet Dealers appeared in the Register. In our opening ad we said “We realized this contract (Chevrolet) carries with it a duty to the people of this community—a duty of service, in supplying them with the most economical transportation in the world today, and a further service in looking after the owners requirements, to the end that all will be “satisfied.”

We have conscientiously lived up to our promise to owners and public, with result that Chevrolet owners in this territory are consistent Chevrolet boosters and our successful sales campaign the past year is largely due to the loyal support and help of our owners. Our record of sales for the 12 months is 220 Cars and had the factory been able to supply the cars we could have doubled that record—Santa Ana and Orange County are growing and we intend to grow with it. With the Chevrolet factory getting into full production of all models, including commercial car and trucks, and with the confidence and support of our owners and friends, we look forward to a substantial increase in our business for 1920. To those who are in need of economical and trustworthy transportation, whether passenger carrying or commercial, we earnestly invite you to investigate the Chevrolet line and our service to Chevrolet owners. The Chevrolet cars we sell remain sold for the owners are satisfied.

Yours for better and bigger business,
